Dedication

*"A teacher
affects eternity;
he can never tell
where his influence stops."*

-Henry Adams

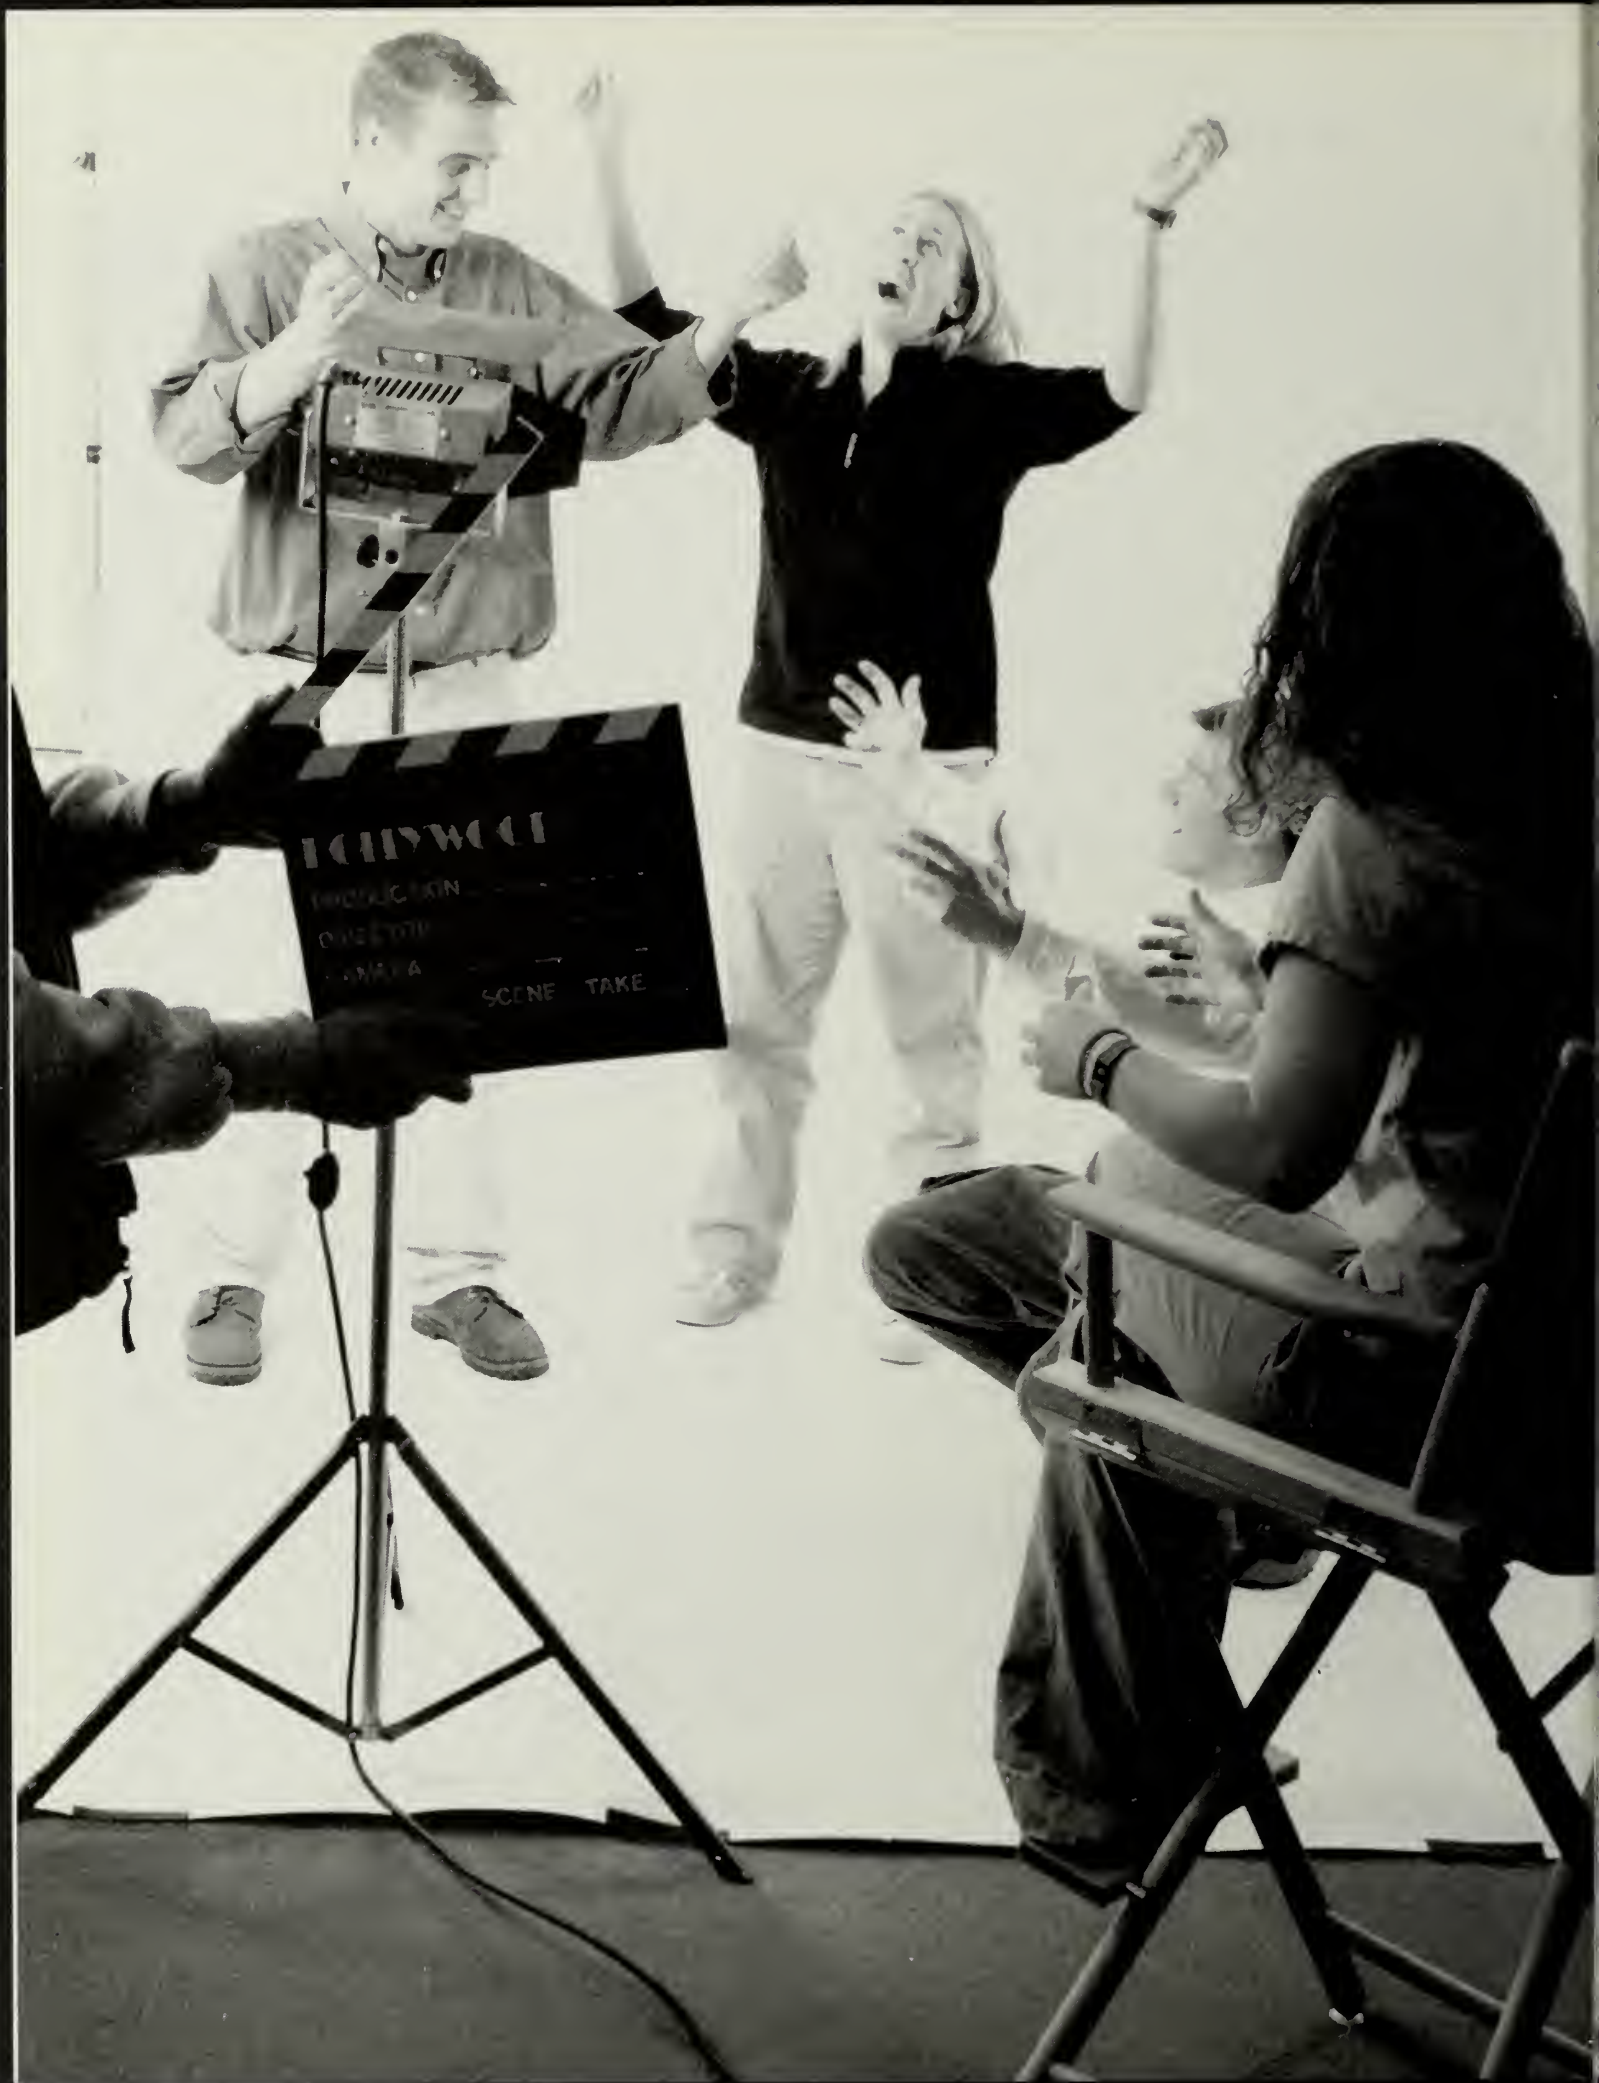

His classroom is the last one on the second floor, but if you listen, you can hear his booming voice at the entrance to the Math & Science Building. It is his immense passion for the subject that he teaches that generates such excitement. And since he joined the GDA community in 1991, his infectious energy has inspired hundreds of students. Recently, in the science-themed Interdisciplinary Seminars, he has proven that his interest in the field of science reaches farther than teaching; he is still eager to learn all that he can. With an excited glint in his eye, he raises his hand more often than the students, bombarding the speaker with questions to further his own understanding.

This passion guides other aspects of his life as well, as anyone who has seen him play the guitar can attest. His smile and enthusiasm seem unconditional; they're present whether he's being attacked with cream pies or braving a student's failed experiment. Every Friday, you can see that smile showcased by a magenta shirt, a tradition that has lasted for as long as anyone can remember. This shirt not only cheerfully heralds the weekend, but it is a case of the outside reflecting the inside. The bright color's energizing effect is the same that he radiates, even during an afternoon lab block.

He was once heard to say, "I have a lot of science in my head, but I just don't have the imagination like those other guys." Well, we beg to differ.

For having more imagination than he knows, the 2001 Milestone is dedicated to
Dr. Fontaine Bradley

Brantwood

The Brantwood Chant

(sung to the tune of the Beastie Boys'
"Fight For Your Right")

You wake up late for breakfast and you don't want to go.

You ask Ms. Bromley please,
but she still says, "No!"

You're walking around on bear alert,
But its just Gza without his shirt.

You've got to fight for your life at Brantwood!

You've got to fight for your life at Brantwood!

Now 'C' catches you up late and he says, "No way!"

Go to bed, it's almost day!

We got the ill hebrew rapper,
we call him the bag

Under the mattress, we found an old porno mag.

Then C busted in and said, "What'd you do?"

Awww, C, you're just jealous, it's the 01 crew!

You've got to fight for your life at Brantwood!

You've got to fight for your life at Brantwood!

As Freshmen

Joe, didn't your mother tell you not to stick silverware into the toaster?

Julia and Courtney are positively glowing on their hike up Mount Monadnock.

Emily and Derek kill time on the porch while they wait for dinner.

Apparently, Maria, Jessica, and Ande got stuck with bathroom duty during Brantwood cleanup.

These girls are willing to bear the freezing weather to see the Sox beat the Yankees.

Adam and Lewis show off their entries in the pumpkin painting contest. — It's no wonder Lewis got the Moody Kent Art Award - that pumpkin deserves a blue ribbon.

starring the Seniors

We're actually seniors. As trite as it may sound, it truly does feel like yesterday that we were freshmen arriving on campus for Unity Weekend. I vividly remember those relay races in the gym, those pathetic skits we performed about each of the major rules in the Student Handbook, that scavenger hunt around Newburyport, and that quick trip to Hodgie's afterwards. Sophomore year flew by, we were all so excited not to be freshmen anymore and Junior year was a blur, too, as we worked our way through the toughest academic year that we had ever faced. And now, here we are, the rulers of the school, so to speak. We finally got to experience Brantwood, where we made new friends and rediscovered old ones, where we conquered Mt. Monadnock and where we had deja vu when we performed some of the exact same relay races from freshman year. But the difference was clear - the goal of the games was not to build ties, but to strengthen them. The change was also evident in the skits. Our comfort and familiarity with each other led to some hilarious impressions (Ashlee's Donkey and Didi's Jessica come immediately to mind). The true test of our class's stability came upon our return to campus, where we faced the challenge of using our strengthened unity to become the leaders of the school. Ultimately, I think we can claim success in this area, evidenced by the fact that everyone in our class made it to graduation, a feat that we haven't seen accomplished in all of our time at GDA. Now, of course, we again face being freshmen, but as we prepare to leave this school, it is important to reflect on how far we've come, both collectively and individually. Now just imagine how much we will have grown upon our graduation from college. See you in five, we'll figure it out. ~Alyssa Chirlin '01

Meg and Catherine grab some punch to soothe their throats after singing at Baccalaureate.

That Tina, she's always smiling!

Nate sings one of his many memorable solos at a concert in Mosley Chapel.

Ashley tries to console a wet and upset Ashlee.

What would EJ and Rachel say?!

Joe and Matt sport their favorite football teams' logos with pride.

Cait models some snazzy tights.

Kim and Alyssa head for the cookout in the Quad.

Becca and Nino put their heads together for skit ideas at Brantwood.

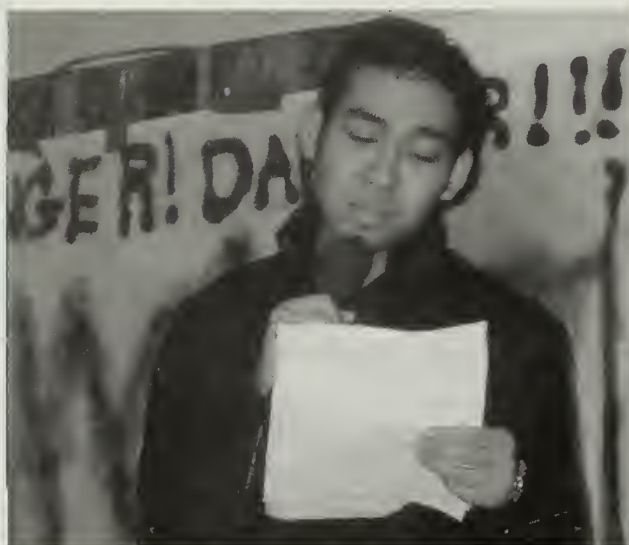

Waiting for the bus home from Brantwood, Hannah gives a sleepy smile.

Katy and Jeff beat the heat by chilling out with a movie in the French Building.

Ashley and Chelsea are ready for their closeup, Mr. Demille.

Proving that designing isn't his only talent, Didi wows the crowd with his singing.

This crew worked so hard at the photo shoot, poor Jordan fell asleep!

Hey, Pat, your fly is open.

Adventurous Ande samples some exotic food at the International Festival.

Enjoying the spring weather, Chris ponders going to class.

It looks like Emily is practicing her seduction techniques on that ice cone.

class of 2001

How do I compact the last 4 years, the best time of my life, into half a page? There have been so many experiences and people that have shaped me into who I am today. From freshman year as a cottage boy to jumpin' over that majestic wall, I will remember every instance and moment I have shared with my wonderful friends. Joe F: Remember those wonderful moments in the cottage? Remember my bad jokes, "Hey Joe, what's long," I'll never forget that wonderful pickup line, "I'll make you famous." Derek: Not even meaning to, we ended up in almost the exact same classes, where you always made it apparent who was the brains of that deadly duo, you. You've been a great role model for the school and I am honored to be one of your friends. Ian & ShoDo: You guys were great captains and you both made the season awesome. I will never forget it. Thanks Guys. Ben: Proud member of the Fine Arts Club!! The last couple months at this place have been awesome because I really think I made a great friend. Thanks for being you, never change. Shuster: It has been a pleasure getting to know you better this last year. You helped me out a lot and I am sorry I wasn't there all the time to help you out. Thanks for being a great, understanding guy. Dan: This year in cross country was simply the best year ever. The enthusiasm you brought to the team was spellbinding. Thanks for putting up with my arrogance. CC Boys: Go get em!! You have all the talent you need and you have heart to push you up those hills. Don't let Jay's ego get in the way of the passing zone!! (just kidding Jay) Corbet: RAAAAAT!!! You're the man. Your cool, calm composure always reassured me in times where I lost it. Thanks and good luck in the future. Meg L: You are one of the sweetest, loveliest girls I know. Everything you do is for the good of your peers. Thank you so much for just being awesome. Enjoy your year off! Relax and have fun. See you soon! Gza: Your friendship has brought me happiness in so many ways. When I felt like I had no friends, you always proved me wrong. Thank you. Nino: Listen, Fatty, just because you think you're fat, doesn't mean you can't do everything awesome. Besides being a great athlete and good captain, you are a great friend. You always knew how to make me feel better, Thanks. Diana C: My singing buddy, you are so talented and I know that I am going to miss you madly. Keep doing what you've been doing, making people feel good, and stop by Ohio sometime soon, OK?! Brooke: Brooke, You are so sweet that it kills me to say good bye to you. You've always been there for me, and now what's going to happen? I will miss you and I hope that you succeed in life, because you have made mine so wonderful. Catherine W: You are just simply awesome. Thanks for putting up with my obnoxious singing and for being a great friend. Jyllian: Ever since your freshman year, you have dazzled me with your kindness, your thoughtfulness, and your friendship. You're so talented. I know you will go places because your head is screwed on right. Thanks for being there for me. Scott: Dude, we have done a lot at this school together. We have played in good bands, we've played in bad ones, too. But I will never forget Johnny Spec and the BC's. No one will ever guess what that stood for, right? Hey, do me a favor, do something with that talent of yours. Abu: You are one character alright. I don't think I could have asked for a better x-country coach. Not only did you help me out in every aspect of my life, you made me feel comfortable in my surroundings here at big bad GDA. You were a nice shock to the brain by showing me that teachers can actually care about the kids they teach. Thanks for all those memories and don't beat up next years team too badly! Ms. Potter: Its kind of hard to believe that I am going to college to major in voice. It was you that inspired me to do that, and I am eternally grateful. You are an amazing teacher and a great person. Thank you for everything we have done together. Shaena: What can I say? I cannot recall a time at GDA that you were not my friend. You and I go so far back in memories, I don't even know where to begin. You always helped me see things from the other person, which sometimes made me mad, but I needed to see them. And even when I hit an all time low this year, you stood by me and helped me out, when so many turned their backs on me. You are a true friend and whomever it is you make friends with in college, those are really lucky people. Stow: You have been a father to me. I have gone through every emotion with you and almost every memory I have of this place, you are in it. You have given me so much and inspired me to a point nobody could ever reach again. You are the best teacher I have ever had. You really care about the well being of your students. I remember when I was in 8th grade and I was playing the piano at Re-visit day. You came up to me and you knew exactly who I was just by hearing me play the piano. You made me feel wanted at this place. You are the best teacher I have ever had, and truly a great friend. Good luck in the future. I'll be checking up on you! Robb: Well, this is it. It has come down to finally saying my final good-bye to you, and I don't know how to say it. In the past years that I have known you I have begun to change who I am. I never trusted anyone, but that has changed. Robb, don't ever change. You bring a smile to everyone's face and trust me we all need that. Thank you for being my friend. Tex: Man, talk about hard to say good-bye to! You've been my best friend throughout my time here. I really appreciate all you have done. I know you think its no big deal, but don't think that. You have changed my life and that is a big deal. You have a certain characteristic in you that makes people like you a lot. You are the best person I know and I feel honored that you were my best friend. Amy: Well, there really isn't much to say, because I have said it all to you already. Probably, by the time you read this, I'll be in Ohio thinking of you. I just want you to know that my senior year was a breeze because I had you in it. I knew that if GDA turned it's back on me (which it didn't, guys) I would have you to be there for me, and that's all I ever needed. I have tried to think of words to describe what you mean to me, but they are dull in comparison to my true emotions. I love you, and miss you. I will come home soon to see you. To everyone else I forgot, I am sorry. I could sit down and seriously write down a memory about everybody at GDA because everyone has made an impact on me, but that would take way too long. Thank you GDA, for giving me the opportunity to be proud of myself. Thank you teachers for pushing me to be a better student, and find out just how academic I could be. Thank you friends for helping me find out who I am. Above everything, thank you Mom & Dad. I love you two both very much. When I leave home, remember that I left my heart there. I am forever thankful of your love and support. When I needed you, you were there. Through my ups and downs, you were always supportive. I could have not asked for better parents. I love you both so much. Thank you all for giving me a person that I am proud of, myself.

Thank you Mom and Dad, you have both been my strength and soul for my entire life and I cant express in words what that means to me. Rohby thanks for being my hero, you have given me power and love and have always stood strong when I needed you thank you for your quiet support. Jodge, you too are my hero, you can always make me laugh and will endlessly be making me sure that I am one step ahead of you even if I have to get a ladder to keep up. Nini, Pop-pop and Baha, thank you for always giving me the love and support that you have always extended to me, I could never tell you how much it has meant to me. To my friends here at GDA- I love you all! It is going to be hard to say all that I want to say to you all in just a page. If I said all that I wanted to say, to each and every one of you I would be able to fill a book. After all how do you write the greatest gratitude and warmth you have ever felt down in words? Keep that in mind as you scan this page and all the others and know that every one of you has had the greatest impact on me in some way and I thank you for that! Remember all the times that we spent laughing, and promised that we would never forget what made us start laughing, but as soon as we tried to write them down we could never remember what was so funny. So as I struggled to write this, and say all that I wanted to say to everyone I couldn't figure out how to do it, to tell so many people that I am so grateful for what they have given me without even knowing they had. Beth- "Yoshi will not be appearing this evening." The shower curtain, my key, the rock, so many others. You have asked me countless times why I was still your friend, and what I have tried to tell you is that you are quietly one of the most amazingly caring people I know. You can read what is going on inside my head just by looking at me and you know just how to respond to it. Because you are always there for me, on those days that I just didn't want to be anywhere. You aren't afraid to say whats on your mind yet you are so careful to not hurt anyone with what you say. Your awesome in every aspect of the word and that is why I am very lucky to have you as a best friend. Thank you, I love you! Meggy B- don't worry about the alligators, "please Meaghan I want my key!" Thank you for always scaring me, and making me laugh. Thanks a billion for always being there for me, I won't ever forget it! Yoshi and I will miss you endlessly. Kimmie-thank you for always being there to take my stuff, and always just being yourself and letting it all come down and never judging. Luci- thank you very much for all those nights when you played the piano, "When did you get back in the country?...I mean when did you get back in the states?" Metty-connection, blink blink. Thanks for your honesty and friendship they have meant a lot to me this year! Courty- thank you for always being there for me, spen will miss you. Cafferine- keep singing, my nights of singing, talking and laughing with you have meant so much to me. My-rear- hey darling, thank you for everything, the phone calls, and al the smiles and laughs! Coley, Jackie, Mel- thank you for everything, you guys could always make me smile and that means more than anything, keep your heads up and remember a good story solves every problem! Logan- never forget our first heart to heart, Cici and the tears. Bit by a bear what? Jess W.- thank you for your unending affection, your second personality and your eager ears to hear about everything. Ashley D- thank you for our nights of smiles and cries, and for always listening. Hannah- keep your head up thanks for complaining with me, it helped me survive. Shaena + Jessie- what who took my smacks? Thank you for the greatest time that I could have had in Spain, I wouldn't have made it without you. I just wish I had gotten to know you both sooner! Lauren + Alyssa- thank you for your laugh and smile! Kerri- "Need a skateboard?" Thank you for being my defensive partner, I will miss your questions next year, keep your head up and the best of luck will come your way. To my friends from home, you guys are the best, thank you for always being there for me, for growing up with me, and always keeping me on my toes! sporting events are the talk of the town on Saturday mornings for one fan. In retrospect I am my parents number one fan. Without mom and dad have been an unconditional source of love and support. Thank you. Secondly, I would like all of the admissions personnel.

Coming from a small southern town, where the Friday night have always been able to count on my parents as my number my parents I would never have become who I am today. My support for me and for this I would like to send them a special for allowing me to attend this academy because without you I w for allowing me to attend this academy because without you I would have been able to achieve the solid educational background that I received here. The education I receive here is thanks to the numerous teachers who have helped me along my way a few that stand out are Mr. Gettings, Mr. Nguyen, Mr. McLain, and Mr. Haley I also have to send a thank you to Mr. Gerry, Mr. Kravchuk, and Mr. Bidstrup for putting up with me for three years and for allowing me to excel in athletic at the academy. Guys we have been through so much in the past three years. Seriously, what would these previous three years be like without me lol. Peter you are the hardest working kid I know, hopefully everything goes well on the ice for you and I am Santa and yes you can have a toy truck what color Jackson "Meat" keep doing whatever your hoping. J.J. thanks for everything, you are a nasty athlete stay out of trouble and have fun next year. Zbriger Nuts' good luck with hockey next year at St. Lawrence; can you show me how to have hands like yours. You have introduced me to the moose call, vitam C party's, wearing corduroy pants four days out of the week is the new fashion, and that going out with a sophomore isn't necessarily a bad thing. Tomas, really don't know what to say man, but we have been through a lot this year. You came up with the nickname Lance and you are the biggest smart --- I me Tomas isn't lazy he just conserves energy I am going to miss our music parties (Yeah Leuvius you know what I mean!) in your room and no I didn't ask if could have those nachos and chips. Tomasettville Phase Two is looking stronger than ever. Tell Julie I said hi good luck with everything you have going there. Without yo and Zbriger whom am I going to watch hockey with. Emily who are you going to have tickle fights with next year? Jones even though we have had our rough spots you ar a great friend best of luck with you and Jaime in the upcoming years. Tomas is the smarter and wittier one between you two. Best of luck at Roanoke next year hopefully w will play each other. Nino who can forget your catcall that scared the hell out of Mayo and Jt at Brantwood keep working out and good luck with football next year. Fred an Tsao Goldbond and a fan make a very dangerous combination. Fred thanks for keeping me up all of time with that stereo system of yours. Jeff, you and I always seemed to g into a little trouble when we are together yeah some things are better left unsaid. Ralphie it was great running behind the holes you created you made my life a lot easier. Stu it was always fun looking back and seeing you sacking the QB. Shodo try not to be to lazy next year. Samson you sleep way too much especially during C-block. What are yc going to do without the Canadians? Tony Tone- What up peg? McGuirk, hopefully you will learn to put the puck in the net just playin. Barry keep dangling, and Borden wh are you going to without Zbriger best of luck for you boys next year. Gabe, keep the synagogue rollin and try not to laugh to hard. Hockey players: "Ya'll Set" Bernie son about the rug wow that was a rough night. Derek it was great receiving passes from you even though I usually dropped more than I caught sorry about that but anyway we hav been through a lot in Eames who can forget our last night there last year or the basketball games with your hamper sophomore year. Good luck at Trinity next year. The Rag Cajuns live on. Fannon it was great having the pleasure to a teammate who could ever forget us clowns for three years. What can I say Delisle, Larry, Bernie, Tsao, Shuste Giza, and Brad we survived the Bahamas, too many memories but a few: I died the first night, can we forget about the cow. Shuster's rapping party, the fire ba waaaaattttttteeeeeerrrrrrrrr, and Brad smelt the shoes. Ashley, what can I say your an awesome friend and made me realize that Mass wasn't full of stuck up snobs, thanl for everything. Liz you became pretty cool even though those dogs of yours have to go. What are you going to do without Tony Hawk Pro-Skater? Kate: I could really go for a backrub, what do ya think? Me and Tucker saw right through you and Rich's little games. It was "Cute...real Cute." Only Rich could drive right? I'm still mad at Napoleon for waking me up. I will have to come by some time and have some tea and strumpets with you and mother. It means a lot to me to be able to talk to you again. Don't turn "woodsy" on me up at UVM. Donkey: "It's just a little poo...a little poo never hurt anybody." How exactly do you play wrestling tennis. Remember your car on the front ledge at my house, New Years 2001. Donkbonics: "Jesus, I mean damn." Matty: I'll see you in J. Crews new catalog. Oh, I'm not afraid to throw anything at you...I got a cup on! Fannon: Has Wotty found anything for us to do yet? JJ: "You all set?" sorry your not here with us. Guido: I want box tickets for some games! Malcolm, Rich, Kate, Sam, Tucker: Reggae Weekend, Sugarloaf 2001, the marsh, Martin H. Burns Reservation, the question of every evening..."Is Bob there?" / I Love You guys, gonna miss ya. Stud: Who's got the ill sweatsuit? Hold it down next year bro. Leavitt: Your house...11:30am!! Jones: you got a fat lip, eh? Nino: your beautiful, tone muscles...and my fellow proctor. Jess: you make me puke. Jordan: Stoney's not so big, me and Tucker will take him. Rothy: calm down, your cut off after 2. Eames Boys: long live the BBQ's Hockey Team (Tomasseta especially): "Let's go boys...Let's go govs!" To anyone I didn't mention, it is because I didn't have room, I'm sorry. "You have to laugh at yourself, 'cause if you didn't, you'd cry your eyes out" ~Emily Sailors

I guess it's hard to know where to start. Looking back, these four years have been a blur. There are so many people who've been there for me and so many memories. Here goes nothing... Eve - I know you probably won't read this unless I show it to you, but: I love you, whether it's NJ or Scotland, I'm there -swear. I'll always be here to listen if you'll listen to me forever. Never say goodbye. Justin - The giving tree, period end: I promise. Andrew - We've been through a lot and funny how we're always on opposite sides... But seriously, you have opened my eyes in many ways, so thank you. You know I love to argue. Lars - You have been there when I didn't know what to do or say and couldn't try to talk even if I wanted to. Sometimes I don't even understand what I'm saying, but you listen and our friendship is true. Yea September!! Ande - The mints in my bed, jump out the window!! And where is our VW bus and the Velcro wall. Jess - you'll always be my first friend at GDA and someday I can say 'I knew her when' when you're all rich and famous. Thompson forever! Jessica - You can call me Coit. Maria - (peppermint patty) Sometimes I think you know me better than I know myself. Call me when you wanna bake. Hey, what about joke/storytelling school? You to Em... Catherine - Latino forever, no more!! Michael O'Neill - You wrote my favorite song, I swear!! Keep up writing, you are the best. Mrs. Adams-Wall - Thank you for being the best mentor I could ask for. Mr. Wann - Thank you for understanding me and letting me be; for the shoulder to lean on and for the support. Acting has helped me find a part of myself I never would have known. Mr. Oxtan - Thank you for being a great friend and teacher; for helping me discover a piece of myself through art. Mrs. Potter & Stowe - Thank you for dealing with my music conflicts and helping me grow as a musician. I'll never forget what you've taught me. Dr. Bradley - You helped me discover my love for chemistry. I know I get off track with my questions - thanks for guiding me. My Family - Thank you for believing in me and letting me grow by coming to GDA. Conn. College isn't that far away. I promise. I love you more than words can express. Matt - So what are we going on, 8 yrs? Seems like yesterday we were just 10... 'Tears in Heaven,' sailing on an empty bay - in my heart forever. I love you no matter what. Lucinda - You thought I forgot about you, didn't you? OK dear, you were either first or last, and I chose last so here goes... First of all, I love you. You have been my solid stone when I was swimming alone. Never forget I'm just a phone call away, and you will visit me. I am the salt!! "Which one's mine! Oh, cause I was going 90...Oh shoot! The skis!!"

Jordan: You are the greatest friend ever! I will miss you so much next year, but I will always remember our time together the past couple of years. We know how to have a good time, sometimes too good, and I will always remember them. How can we ever forget sophomore year -woohoo! Every good concert I have gone to was with you, maybe one or two them we happened to be under the weather, but we always survived. We have come a long way since freshman year, between then and now we have accomplished and learned a lot. Everything happens for a reason, and I believe meeting you is one of them. This is definitely not a good bye, just a thank for making this experience worth while. There are still some good times to have and more memories to make; we are just putting this place behind us before we move on to the next. I love you and think the world of you and will miss not being with you next year. Jesse: We have known each other for 13 years. I look back and remember Barbie dolls, snicker doodles, sleepovers, lax and of course field hockey. We have made a long journey together and I think it has been pretty successful. Playing F.H. with you for six years and finishing it off with a co-captain-ship, well that is a testimony for the bond that has grown through our numerous friendships and our love for the game. Jesse I know our paths will cross many more times. Ashlee: You are the Best! You make me giggle always. I have loved living with you for four years; it has always been fun to see the BSB obsession grow every year. I am so fortunate to of been a co-proctor with you in Moody this year (were it all began) you are such a great friend, confidant and leader. Thanx for being you Ashluv! Megan: Well Rothy you are truly an individual and I have never laughed more with anyone or at anyone. You have been a friend, and why I know this is because you can make me laugh in any situation, wake me up in the morning and we have probably eaten most of our meals at gda together. Thanx for always being there as a friend and as an entertainer. Tiana: T- great things come in small packages! Thanx for coming over to have dinner and watch movies and eat candy, or when we were feeling adventurous actually going to the movies. I have had so much fun with you this year and I know we will continue to find it beyond gda. Caitlin: What can I say but Ariba-Aruba and Papa Gino's Drew Bledsoe! I have loved our Monday talks and hope they continue next year at UVM. It's nice to know that we might be together next year, but we must learn how to exist on our own. Keep smiling and remember to be optimistic. J-L: Mind over body! I think I burned my eyebrow, I smell hair! Well Jesse thanx for all the laughs and for sharing some great memories, I'll miss you. Good Luck in Ireland. Jeff: Sucks to be you! We got to know each other really fast and I loved every minute of it. I will never forget the good times we had together; I would just like to erase all the bad. Unfortunately the bad has outweighed the good in my mind and that has increased the void between us over the past year. I will always care about you and you should alwknow that. Things could have been different but they weren't and that may be for a reason, but I am still trying to understand. You are one of the better people I have encountered at gda and even though I wish I could take some things back, knowing you like I did is not one of them. I'll miss you. Sammy P: The rim is our weakness! It was fun being weekend warrior with you, we were a great team-I wish I we had more opportunities to of dominated. You were a great date at the formal junior year. Good Luck next year. Kate: I know you will be a great F.H. captain. Good Luck next

Shout Outs: Joe, Larry, Chris, Bernie, Joe, Derek, Rich, Tucker, for the good times, best of Luck! Special Thanks to: Ms. Boulais, Suggs, Ms. Ruhl- I wouldn't have made it without each and every Mom Dad: Thanks for all your help and support. I love you both You're all cute and painful, but I still love you guys. Good Luck

Thank you Thank you Thank you Thank you Thank you Mandel for letting me graduate. Your decision changed my life and it goes to show you that screwing people isn't the only way to do things. This was somewhat of a tough four years for me here at GDA, but I still managed to get something out of it that will help me for the rest of my life I guess. If you think about it, GDA itself isn't that bad except for its middle-of-nowhere location and all those dumb rules. Some kids here were pretty cool, but they consist of a somewhat modest number of people. Fenton, it was a cool year, even though some parts of it are somewhat vague, it was a challenge and a pleasure to push my luck to its max and still got away with it without a scratch. Who would have guessed that you would have gotten into BC and I would get into college period. It was a pretty extreme year and you being part of it made it really cool. Herron, thanks for letting me cheat off of you, it's probably the only reason why I passed my Junior year. Sammy Ko, you're definitely not as dumb as people think you are, a few years from now when you become rich mack you should come back and show them what's up. It was a cool three years with you, and I'll come back sometimes to visit you, and by the way, if you let go of Zbriger's --- for a minute, we could have hung out a lot more. Mayo thanks for taking me out, 4/20 was pretty cool this year, and that was really cool how we pulled right in front of the French Building... Ashley, thanks for taking me out, you made it easier this year. Meaghan, thanks for doing all the science lab work for me. Becker, if you ever become rich, do yourself a favor and buy yourself a brain. Tucker, if you ever come up to Montreal give me a call, you're a cool kid. Fred, Glad to hook you up. Rich, come back down to earth buddy. Desmarais, you're cool, I wish I didn't pass out at your PARTY. Larry, you're pretty funny, Levitt, you're not. Pasquina, I don't agree with anything that you say, but you're still cool, take it easy. Leuvis, calm down, and by the way you're in America not in Dominican Republic, do you realize that? Jordan Runnion, I don't know you very well, but I wish I knew you from outside of school, you seem like a very cool girl, and you're hot. Kenny, you're cool. Jones, why did you have to move to my hallway you ruined everything. Mullins, whatever happened to you? Yuri, you stink at hockey but you're still cool, and also in the face book, you look like you're having a seizure. Tex, you're a funny kid. can say I know this guy to my friends. Blacky, you fall off a building. Little Giz and Garrett, you ence you. Giz, don't let him ruin it for you.

Your motivation and determination, your caring and loving, and most importantly your support, has molded me to be the person that I have become today. I know that I'll never be able to repay you for all of what it's worth, but let me tell you one thing: You brought me into this world and I will do everything and anything that I can to make you proud. I love you infinitely!! Kristin- I could always count on you to put a smile on my face whether it was a phone call or just a simple card to let me know that you were thinking of me and that you care about me. My love and appreciation for my mom and dad has grown tenfold over the last few years. THANK YOU SO MUCH! I also have to extend my deepest gratitude to Mr. McLain and his family. Anabel thank you for sticking by my side and being an unbelievable friend and girlfriend to me. You meant the world to me for three years of my life at GDA, you probably did not think you did, but I will not forget the experiences we had together. That night we had that talk outside next to the little red schoolhouse, you made me realize the true meaning of love, which I will have for you forever. Each tear that was wept that night signified all the good and bad times we have faced in our relationship. I will never forget that night for as long as I live. I am sorry for everything I have done wrong. You are a great person and don't let anyone tell you wrong. You are a beautiful person from the inside and outside. Don't ever change that for anybody. Hopefully, someday we will be back together. I hope that someday, I will have you in my life forever. Just remember that I will be by your side 100% if you ever need anything. I Love You and I Miss You dearly with all my heart.

Mr. Metz you were my second father who helped me through this journey. When I came as a Freshman I was a little punk who had no intention of making it past the year. You stood by my side and did not let me hit that brick wall, which ends most kid's lives from Haverhill. You helped me become a mature young man. You should take a lot of credit for that. I admire you for being a great friend and father to me. You will always be my number one coach. Thank You.

To my dogs-Antonio make it through the year safely it is not worth your career-Kenny you animal, I will hopefully see you and Antonio at my college-Smart Guy if you end up back at GDA, make sure no one does anything stupid-Biz stay out of trouble-Steve you will always be UG, but good luck next year-Anthony keep your peg out of trouble-Ralphie make sure you stay in contact with me so I can know how you are doing, and that goes for every one else too-Leauvis you were my partner in crime on the basketball court, make sure you stay in control and don't kill anybody-Nino you are a crazy SOB, but a good friend as well. I won't forget the pranks we have pulled off-Matt I admire you for everything you have accomplished- Brian please stay away from Kay-Peepee take charge on the court, and make sure everyone respects you- Alex and the FAM., thank you for everything. Families like you are one in a million- I love all you guys and make sure you achieve your goals in life. One Love

Don't worry I did not forget about you VNUT, thank you for being there for me. You were my math teacher for ten years but I didn't mind. It made are relationship better. Hopefully, we will stay in touch. Just remember you will always be the man on and off the court.

Dale I did not forget about you. Even though we did not graduate together, without you I would've never made it here. Thanks for being there for me for four years. One love

Ramon my partner in crime back in the real world. I have to give you a shout out because your picture is on my page. We have both reach our first goal in graduating high school. Now, the next step is graduating college. As long as we stick together, nothing will stop us from achieving our goals. Let's keep it going!

To my parents – Thank you so much for everything. I owe you everything. You gave me the best and I'll never forget that. Mrs. Guy – Thank you for helping me for lots of things. When I had a hard time as a foreign student, your help solved all my problems. I could do better to lead the club, however it was really good to be a president for the international club. Mrs. Ruhl – Thank you for all your helps. You helped me a lot when I had some troubles. You were always on my side. Thank you. My friendly advisor Mrs. Gold – You are the best advisor ever. Your advice made this year the best year in GDA. All your help allowed me to graduate here. Thank you so much. To my buddies – It was really good to know all you guys. I had a lot of fun, and you guys made my life happier. Those of you who will become seniors, there's nothing to be sketched out about next year. Have fun!! Ted – You have been such a wonder friend to me. You are so open-minded and understanding. I'm sure you can lead Asians very well. My Korean boys – We had some fun guys. All I want to say is "Do NOT miss classes"

Thank you for everything

Mom Thank you for everything. With out you none of this would be possible. You will never truly be able to understand all that it is you have given to me, but I appreciate it all. We have been through the good and bad and we always seem to pull it through. I am the person I am today because of you. I love you. Jackie My goofy partner in crime. You are the best little sister a girl could ever ask for, and I know I don't tell you it enough, but its true. I'll always treasure all of our silly moments: playing doubles, showing our food at the dinner table, and all the crazy things you say with out thinking! Don't ever change. Cait I will never forget when I first realized that my orthodontist was your mother, and you were the girl I would be going to GDA with! Since then, I'd say we have come pretty close. You always know just how to make me laugh, and cheer me up. I will never forget some of our most fabulous moments: those x-rated Christmas parties, Tendercrop dinners and sneaking out for sleep-overs at a certain someone's house! Thank you for your friendship which I will carry with me forever, you are a truly great friend. Be careful next year (at groovy-uuvvie)! Tiana Where can I even begin to start with you, my little ghetto b. (you know what I mean). You are my moose and I will always hold that close to my heart, and make sure you don't forget about our special S. headbands, that is if we ever end up using them. You are an amazing person, and with out you I don't know if I could have done it, and I know I would not have had nearly as much fun. I have never had a better dance partner in all of the world, than my beautiful Waikiki, even if I have to share you w/Eduardo (we better have had our special night before you see this too)! Thanks for being the best friend a girl could ask for. Megan From freshman year IFA, History and Science 2000 to here. Just think, at first it was Drew Bledsoe and the Patriots that brought us together, but even now that they suck, we're still here! I will never forget all of our sophomore year sleepovers and our "Rothy" "Rosco" conversations. You are the best, and we have to keep our once a season game tradition going on next year, and maybe we can get another picture with the coffee cup. Ash Our friendship is one that has grown a lot over these past few years, and for that I am so happy. You have always been the girl that can bring me back to earth when I seem to be drifting away. Thanks for always being someone I could count on. I know I will never hear a Backstreet Boys song on the radio with out thinking of you. Katy How many years has it been? Being apart is going to be kind of scary. What am I going to do with out my field hockey companion, and the girl I played Barbie dolls with for an eternity? Something tells me we will always be friends. Jordan I have always felt that even when we were not as close as we are now that you are someone I could always talk to. You always put a smile on my face. I am definitely coming out to visit you in Cali! Aruha 7 We have to do that again sometime! I'll never forget "It wasn't me", Woo-hoo, or our H2O sport fun! You have all meant so much to me, keep in touch. Matt This year would never have been the same with out you. Thanks for always listening (picking up the phone) and being there. Knowing I had you to make me laugh or tell me what I needed to hear meant so much. Your friendship has meant more to me than you will ever know. You better keep in touch! Derek What would I do if I couldn't talk to you? You are the best, don't ever change. I am going to make sure we play tennis together! Richard I'll never forget Brantwood and actually getting to know you. We have had lots of fun together and we better have gone dancing by the time you read this. Kate I will miss you, getting to know you has been great, and hanging out with you is always a crazy time. Good luck! Chris We are both going to be in Maine, so I better see you. Remember, driving a car should never be like a video game. Jay The time I have spent with you has made me so happy. You can make me smile unlike anyone else. I hope I have given to you all that you have given to me. I love you. Thanks to everyone who was part of this experience: Sam, Jeff, Tucker (no matter how mean you are to me), Kaitlin, Jess L. (you know we had fun in Fla.), Larry, Joe Fannon, Joe Leavitt, Shannon, Kelly, Alex, Genna, Ben C, Shuster, Kenny and my tennis and field hockey girls. Thanks to the teachers, I could not have done this with out you: Mr. Gerry beyond precalculus and basketball you taught me a lot about myself. Thanks for all of your advice and help, as well as all of the laughs. Gretchen With out you I don't think I would be the same field hockey player. Thank you for everything, and don't forget to come and visit. I am a Polar Bear now! Mr. Wann, Ms. Ainsworth, Mr. Gosse, Mr. V, Sr. Blanco, Mr. Moore, Ms. Boulais, Mr. Ceglarski, Mr. Nelson, Mr. Abu and Wotty. Thank you to GDA and everyone in it. I love you all.

Without you it would have been a rough four years. You are the best, you can do everything... You know the rest. Take care of yourself and anytime you need anything, just let me know. Katy: Where would I be without my devil? My life would be seriously lacking if it weren't for the infamous Katy Brox. You light up my life in a way only you can and I really do appreciate that. To Boston, to the beach, and back... Your smile has gotten me through many situations and your understanding has made the difference. See you around NBPT. Ashlee: Whether its driving lost through New Hampshire or finding... this, I know that you will always be the best company a girl can find. Your sweetness radiates out of you and warms everyone it touches. I am happy to say I have been bathed in it here at GDA. Jess'ca: Always there with an open ear, I can always count on you to listen. Starting from freshman year when we tried to save the world from bad music to this year when we tried to save the world from China you have always been by my side. This part of the bakery will always be there for reinforcement. I love you jessy My Aruba Girls: We are so going back. You all know Mario is waiting for us! Larry: You really are one of the sweetest boys I know. From freshman year when you sent me flowers I knew there was something good about you! Take care. Chris: I will never forget second grade and all the others leading up to now. Even though our paths are finally diverging, I am sure they will cross again. Joe L: You will never stop making me laugh Jeff: Pat and Vanna rule the game show world. Matt Lee: I am happy that we finally became friends. You've given me lots of laughs and even more memories Kate A: YOU WIN! You are a sweetheart and have the best laugh in the world!

Having you around has been CLUTCH and I am forever grateful to you for helping me keep my sanity. Allen: The trick is to keep breathing... don't let the important things pass you by. You are a great kid and I know you can achieve great things. Hang in there because it pays off at the end. Aaron: Don't ever give up. If you want something bad enough you will have no trouble achieving it. You are a terrific kid and never cease to stop making me laugh. Kate H and Jackie: You can do anything because you are great. You always make me smile. EJ: There are often times when I doubt if I could have done this without you. The happiness I feel when I am around you is what lifts me up to heights I never before imagined. My time with you has been like no other, but that is why we are so special. Who's better than us? I love you with my entire being- heart body and soul. You make me a stronger person and because of you I feel capable of taking on the world, as long as you are by my side. Everyone who has made me smile: Lauren, Bernie, JT, Courtney (the other CMC), Kaitlin, Derek (I admire you more than you know), Joe Fannon, Patrick, Matt Herron, Jessamine, Rich, Ben, Maria, Julia, Becca, Sam, John Shuster, Ande, Nate Tsao, Jessica Watson, Drew (aka Rob), Kelly, Jenna, and Kelsey (au dieu ma filles de francaises), Davey (aka Pomme), Kenny, Tylee (baahhh), Taso, the EPHC crowd and my tennis girls, The Grasso's and Ross' (you really have been as much my families as my own, Thank you so much) as well as pretty much everyone else. To the senior class of 2001: Thanks for making my birthday so special. Mom and dad. You two are the greatest. You have done whatever it takes to make me happy and supported me through every decision I have made. Dad: thanks for always being the number one fan and for all the post game conversations that kept me sane over the last few years. Without you guidance and your acceptance of my mistakes, I would be lost. Cant say enough about the defense you played this year man, it was stellar. Keep in touch man, wherever you end up. And it was "more" Shodo: Who is that kid? Glad I got the chance to know. Ian: I feel your pain, how many positions can you talk on the phone in? Aliens are not real. Z and Samson: Life on Yahoo is always calm, Z keep the pucks and the eagles on the up and up, Samson when whatever you and only you knows slide me some of the millions. Angry Dan: Thanks for not letting me quit, enough said. It has been
it is finally over. I am with some great memories and some even greater friends. Rooming with Zbriger was quite an experience. Z-NUTS, over the past two years I have gotten to know you so well that I am now able to impersonate you perfectly. It's just not normal she's wild for sure. It's electrifying. The celery at the Sylvan is good, want some? Although I have given you a lot of grief over the past two years, I am glad to say that you have become one of my closest friends, thanks. I will never forget the Samson-Zbriger slumber parties in room 212 and the way the two of you kept me up all night. Samson, sup b. I don't think anybody has enjoyed bugging me more than you have. "How do you feel about that?" Sammy D. Ko, the winner of the Smallworld pool and the founder of the dirty bird. I am sure I will see you again, look me up if you ever come to Montreal and NO! you cannot go to the formal with Julie. Jonsey, four or more? Although

I am sure you will always remember me, I don't think you will remember me as well as your dream weaver. Good luck in Roanoke and never forget that you and I are unbeatable together (the tag team). Becker, the number of things that I can put in my comments about you would take over a page. Becker, "I'll bring a rope somebody bring a tree...". Is Samson Hong Kongian? Would you like a chicken or beef saboge? Becker you are the hardest working kid I have ever met good luck in whatever you do and never forget Tomasettaville phase two. Morrissey, that's a nice shoe, feel free to squeeze right in. Lance, don't ever forget who named you, you either Ninosporin. Shodo Monkey, you are the biggest little man in the world and the only kid I know who is wider than he is tall. You must be the only kid who knows more 80's hits than me. Keep in touch and remember there are 482 tiles on the ceiling of our English class. Clown Dawgs, I will still never understand how you literally slept through every one of our math and history classes. Playing hockey here at GDA was great, I had a lot of fun. "Did you take my goal scorer?" Thanks to all the guys that made the past two years of hockey enjoyable. Hey Borden, did you just touch my butt? McGuirk, I will always remember "Desperado!" Gabe, Who was always the last man back on a three-on-one for you? I'm going to start throwing hay-makers. Davey, I'm going to miss those elbow and lap dances before games next year. Rob "The Ferret", you will always be my special little hockey player. Desmarais, the most inspiring captain I have ever had, "let's go boys, come on boys, here we go boys!" Emily, thank you for being such a good friend. Thanks to all the teachers here at GDA who have helped me along the way, although I have been really quiet in the classroom I truly appreciate the time and energy that you have put into each class. Thank you Mr. McCullough for always helping me and providing me with guidance when I needed it. To Julie, I know that the past two years have been very tough on the both of us. Thank you for always being there for me and for always supporting me. You have made the past two years away from you a lot easier than they could have been. Thank you for always putting up with my crappy moods and always understanding. Thank you Mom, Dad and Michael for helping me through this experience. Thank you for all the visits, the driving, and the time that it has cost you guys. I appreciate it more than you know. Thank you for giving me the opportunity to realize what I really want from life. I love you guys. To all the other people at GDA who have not pissed me off or annoyed me in any way, good luck in the future, take it easy and remember, don't eat yellow snow ch!

My two years here at GDA have been full of great memories. Rooming with Tomas was quite the adventure. Tomas, you are a little mysterious at times but you are a character and a good friend. I'm sure the yearly meningitis scare will be ok. Sam Dawggs, the smallworld champ. Sup B, wake up Sammy, we gotta go to class. I'll see you in MTL at Teazers and at the casino. Keep in touch if you want the agent position. Shodo Monkey, Clown Dawggs, Dan Lee, Leuvius, 2nd west will always stick together. Gotta thank Dan Lee for his fan support and confidence towards my hockey career. My boys in Ingham will never forget the airplane dance and "one of these". Donks, I'll see you in supersized study hall and number 19 is definitely magic. Biz, I will never forget that talk we had with Tomas and Donkey that night. Jonesy, you're a traitor but I still luv ya bro. Brew man, we'll never forget Chloe. Special thanks to coach Kravchuk (Y'all set), coach Mac, and Juice for two awesome years of hockey. The money line will live forever. JJ and Borden, we dominated. I got nothing to say to you Morrissey. Hey how you doing Borden. McGuirk, don't forget to slow it down a bit. Gabe, you will always be the kosher cowboy/rabbi robber/founder of the synagogue corner. Peter, I don't use tape. Actually I'm just pulling a caper. Mario's comeback was the best of all time. Mormina, St. Lawrence is going to take care of Colgate. Mully, I'm gonna miss those elbow and lap dances before games. Batesy, you are the best manager of all time. Nino, I will always lock my door if you are around. That is if it is not broken. Gettings, thanks for actually making baseball fun. Thanks Mr.V for making math a little interesting. Thanks Mr. Gosse for all that extra help. Mrs. Guy, AP French was a lot of fun. Kim and Kait, quel dommage. Searlsy, Ingham wasn't the same without you but at least we had fun in English class. Can't forget to thank Mrs. Adams-Wall for her guidance. I also have to thank Mr. McCullough (my advisor), Mr. Suggs, and Mr. Nguyen for being cool dorm parents. Emily Ouimette, you're questionable but thanks for making this year a lot of fun, especially in English class. Devan, you made me like this place that much more. Sorry if my smile makes you melt. You're tough to deal with at times with all those out of bounds rules but you know I love it. Gabbs, nothing to say but you're awesome man. Blocky, move on. Gerber, you're a little tense but I had a lot of fun over the Jewish holidays.

Mom and Dad, I gotta thank you guys for your support over the years. I would not have made it without you guys. It was pretty incredible how you guys made it up to just about every game. I can't explain how much I appreciate your support and the opportunity you guys have given me to live out my dream. I love you guys. Brady, what can I say. You have been a great role model for me over the years. The Americans have adopted our moose call. We've got long GMHL careers ahead of us. You've got some work to do to get your tour card but keep the faith. There's nothing else to say but you're the man.

Thanks to my family for paying for four years of don't know how to express my feelings. All I can say high school.

To My 4 Partners In Crime:

Richard: How is it that every time we party together something strange happens. Sleeping on a bench, HOJOs, wandering around UNH are just a few of them. You showed me the art of hard working laziness just in time. I have no doubt you will keep it up but then again I guess it wont be that hard with that rocky mountain high. Jeff: it only took us two years but you finally came around and reached your potential as a fat, lazy bastard. You could never seem to make it past 8 however but college will take care of that and I hope. I wish you luck in your quest for round two and hope you know what you are getting into. Does it look like it is done? I don't think so. Malcolm: My fellow mainer who almost singlehandedly supported our infamous dinner rides. You were momentarily distracted but returned better than ever. You were always pushing the limits. Sam: The man who ultimately made our dinner rides possible. No matter what happened you were never deterred. You also saw your life pass before your eyes that infamous day in the parking lot. Even though this year has not seen the funneol the end result has still been the same. Kate: you may think of yourself as one of the guys but that isn't true, you are just cool enough to hang with us. I cannot begin to explain the love and gratitude I feel. You have been there for all of us every step of the way. Ashley: I love you and I always will. I cherish your friendship and only wish that things had been different in all aspects. Fenton: your complete disregard for all the academy tried to impose upon you. We have had some good times like when the car just stopped while doing fifty and then sleeping in a chair in a lounge. Liz: you possess so much love, beauty and innocence that it makes me smile just thinking about you. I don't believe that you realize how special you really are. You brightened up my life with your youthful jubilation and easy going manner. Ben: you my brother have much to learn. You swagger around like you own the place. You are a Corriveau however and you must represent. I wish you luck in your fifth and final year and hope that you are the second Corriveau gda grad. Seniors: you have all surprised me and fulfilled (well almost) my greatest hopes of having a senior class that stops at nothing to party.

Now that my time here is at an end I can disclose the full details of my mission to America. I was enlisted by the British Secret Service in 1999 to perform a number of undercover missions designed to disrupt the course of America educational establishment, thus altering the course of your future by corrupting your young. Without your knowledge I have secretly implanted microchips in many of your brains, which will correct your appalling pronunciation, develop your sense of irony and compel you to donate half of your Gross Domestic Product to Canada. You will eventually be re-colonized, thus freeing you from the laughable superstition that you are the most advanced nation on earth. We will bring you language, culture and books. More importantly, we will ban the incest which has crippled many of your rural populations. God Save the Queen. To Tex, Carter, Ollie, Shane, Rob M, Lenny, Yalf, Colin Powell and Dubya etc. Your instructions to continue my work will be forwarded to you at the appropriate time. On a serious note, I'd like to thank everybody who made my year at GDA possible. It has been a wonderful experience, one which I will cherish forever. Special Thanks go to My family, especially the newborn nephews and my Mum, The Doggetts, The Rokii, 00Suggs and the Ingham dorm parents, Nelly, Caroline Kimball, and the rest of the Faculty who have made me so welcome. I'd also like to thank Heather Wain and the English Speaking Union for my scholarship to GDA, and I hope that this tradition can continue. To all Seniors, but especially Ian, Leuvis, Sam, Joe, Brad Tucker, Nino, Joes F/L, Derek and John P, Vaya Con Dios, and keep in touch. To the soccer team, AND AGAIN WILL RETURN. To Michael, Stormy, Justin, Lars, John, and Wilson, I just want to say...If I squint really hard you remind me of the disciples. Or the 1970 East German Women's Olympic Swimming team. To Kelsey, Claire, Lucinda, Cory, etc. take care of them, they're very fragile. Laura, I've always treasured silences in which we say place, but not here and not now. not on a page. It's enough to say

Grandma: I can't thank you grow up four years too early support, I wouldn't be where for paving the way. You may

Mom, Dad, and enough for allowing me to If it wasn't for your I am today. Mike: Thanks have had a rough ride to the top, but I was able to learn from your example. To the Guys: Jones and Tomasetta: I'll probably watch the both of you on some late show someday. Zbriger: Don't worry you'll grow eventually. Give me a call when you go NHL. Samson: The flightless bird, the anti-insomniac, maybe you'll fill that head of yours up with some useful information in college Dan: keep working on the guitar and keep your eyes off those freshman girls. Ben: You can be in my bluegrass band someday (maybe). Just remember that Stevie Wonder is a musical genius. To the nice girls I met way too late: Shaena, Emily, Jessie, Lucinda, and Laura, you are what the rest of the girls at GDA should be like. To the rest: Tsao: I'll collect your CD's when you become a famous musician. Donkey: Don't worry. That tooth will grow in eventually. JJ: I envy how easy life is for you. Try to at least act like it's a little bit hard. Rob: It isn't the world's fault you're small. To the Ingham guys: Kenny, Tony, Lance, Davey, Carter, and Yalph, and the rest, watch your back's. Suggs is always watching. To all the faculty who helped me make it (including my main man Mr. Kravchuk), thanks for the help.

First of all I have to thank my parents for all of their love and support. hannah I appreciate you always being there and pushing me to reach my fullest potential. With out you I wouldn't be where I am today. Sam...what can I say...thanks for keeping me in check and not letting my head get too big. Love ya. Next I have to thank Ms. Sedgewick for being my advisor, dorm parent, and friend. I really don't know if I could have made it through these two years with out you. Thank you for always listening and giving great advise. I would like to thank Mrs. McLain for giving me the opportunity to come to GDA and play prep school hockey...thanks for Union. Who to thank, God only knows the effect that you all have had on my life. Every step of the way my parents have been there supporting me in what ever I have undertaken. You have provided the guiding light that I so vitally need. My friends, you too have been there when I have needed you, even if I didn't always do the smartest things. It would take forever to write to each of you individually, and I feel it is pointless to simply state all of your names, so in two words THANK YOU. What else is there to say, GDA has provided me with a memorable four years, even at the end when I was ready to leave. Where else will I be known simply as GIZA?

Four years summed up in half a page...If I forgot anyone, sorry...Mom and Dad—Thanks for all the rides from Byfield late at night and at 6 am on Saturdays, all the money, and all the support over the years...Lauren—Have fun in high school but don't get too comfortable in my bedroom while I'm gone. You better not knock down the wall...Oaf—Have fun in Washington taking powder shots on Mt. Hood in June. Maybe I'll run into you ski bumming in Jackson Hole five years from now. Just buy a comfortable van. Remember in Utah: was she hot? I'll keep the apple trick in mind...Tim—I'll watch for you on TV in Cameron next year. Maybe you'll be able to beat UNC. (Don't count on it)...Shuster—I'll never think of a nature walk quite the same. I'll never get sick of hearing Donkey and Kravchuk. indeed, corpse, sank you...Larry—Someday you'll get that squirrel. We had some good times up at your ski house. Don't flunk out of RPI like the others. Continue to live life by The Simpsons and Family Guy...DeLisle—Bates will be awesome next year (until you lose to us). I'll watch for you at games and Dispatch concerts. Sack up...Nardo—Good luck with the music. I'll be watching for your first album. Bad things always seemed to happen at your house. Sorry about the chair...Mayo—Have fun in NYC...Donkey—Keep your mouth shut and you'll do great things (just look at G.W. Bush). Good luck in the army and try not to start any wars...Levitt—Levitt and New Orleans is a bad combination. Stay out of trouble...Gza—I'll remember the fire breathing trick. Just don't take off your shoes. Samson—Remember JV tennis. Eventually we'll win one...Greg McD—Keep working on the McShite. You'll get it at some point. You'll have to lead ski club to another undefeated season (especially against volleyball). See you in Turin 2006...Woods—I know I'll see you running for office someday. I would vote for you, but you're a Democrat. Best of luck on the paper...Steamboat—Remember Shaun Palmer, the hot tub, and doing somersaults down the hallway...Park City—Skills and his ladies, the disgruntled bastard, Frogger, and some orgasmic skiing...Nassau—Where to begin? Donkey's girlfriend, Tony the cabbie, 20-second timeout, and winning hundreds of dollars in the casino to lose it all the next day...Searles—Thanks for being a great advisor and ski club coach. Keep Gosse under control at Cannon...Bert—Sorry about the squids. Maybe we'll come back next year to be sure that the tradition continues...Werner—Thanks for the help with the paper and leading JV tennis to their best season in years...Thanks to all my teachers and coaches over the years...And thanks to everyone. We are an awesome class and we've had an awesome four years. Barbeques on the Sager Bowl, Wednesdays, Brantwood. Good luck to the class of 2005!

the supporting cast

After three years at the Academy, we, the members of the Junior Class, have established ourselves as scholars, artists, athletes, and, above all, as people of character. Now, as we are approaching the end of our high school careers, we look upon the past three years with fond memories and to our future as leaders of the school with a sense of hope. Through the trials and the tribulations, the good times and the bad, we have all become better people. We have grown as individuals and as a collective unit. Many challenges still lie ahead, but after a year of growth and ever-developing friendships, we are poised to take on the leadership of our school with pride, dignity, and a sense of accomplishment. If "diversity is but strength" then the junior class is well endowed: we have AP Scholars who are athletes, artists who are dedicated to serving the community, and musicians who excel on the athletic field. Diversity, our most notable quality, will guide our class to infinite possibilities.

-Mike Woods, President of the Class of 2002

The Plot Progresses

Class of 2003

This year, the sophomore class got off to a great start! On the first day of Unity Days, we went into Boston and walked around the Science Museum. We ate lunch looking out onto the Charles River, and then came back to school to watch Grease on a giant screen in the Field House. On the second day of Unity Days, we went canoeing. New editions to the class such as Ollie Brown and Nick Diamond made names for themselves by jumping into the Ipswich River and tipping over other people's canoes. After these days, we knew that this year would add more memories to those that the returning students had already made the year before as freshmen.

As a class, we are preparing for our class night. So far, this year has been great and we all are hoping that the next will not be as bad as everyone makes junior year out to be.

Stepping into a New Scene

Class of 2004

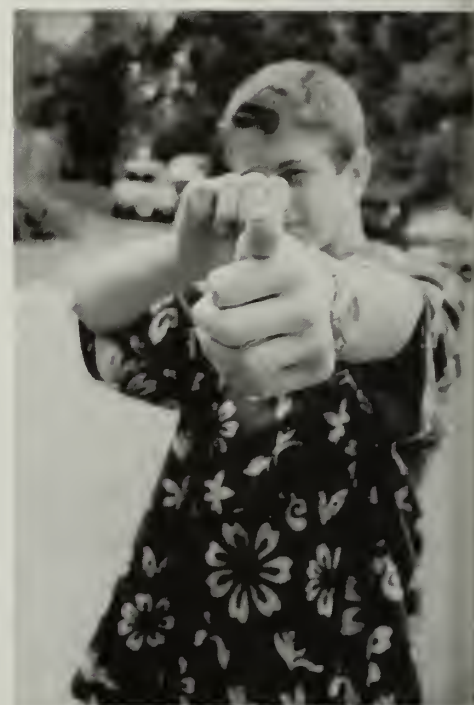

Keep elastics away from Ryan...you just never know what is going to happen

The young frightened faces of the freshmen arrived on the Governor Dummer campus in September of 2000. All of us were in the same state... nervous, excited and hoping to see a familiar face or make a new friend. All it took was a few unity days in the beginning and we were all off and running. The activities which helped to bond us together included all sorts of fun events: a day at the beach, activities on campus, a scavenger hunt in Newburyport and an ice cream social. Since then we have been challenged academically in the classroom by many fine teachers and on the athletic fields, finding mostly success, but also leaving room for improvement! We are all finding our special spot here, enjoying life at Governor Dummer, where those nervous and frightened faces have turned to smiles.

- Greg Ceglarski,
President of the Class
of 2004

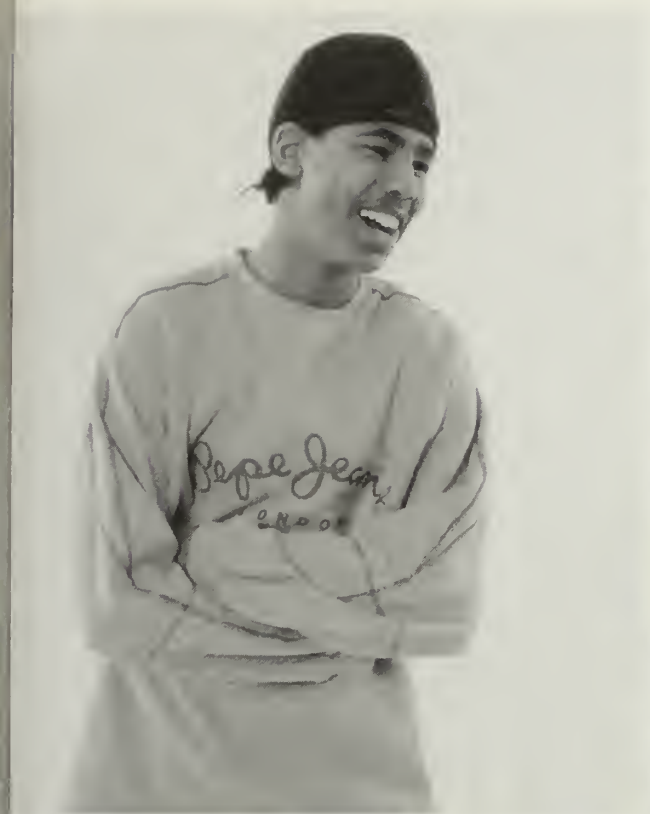

"We were all hoping to see a familiar face or make a new friend."

Michelle seems to be enjoying her hot chocolate.

Kate and Sarah cheer on the T-Birds.

Even Pepe enjoys a good laugh.

Sayer's love for math is overwhelming!

Ashley, Ali, Amanda and Keri test how many kids can fit on a French Building couch.

Wow, it sure looks like Rachel and Jessie missed the joke...they should ask Melissa.

Are they excited about chemistry class or the opportunity for explosion?

Brad, Julie and Zita take a break from life...and drama.

Fight Club, French Building style. Who gets to be Brad Pitt?

It's not worth it Erin. Put the knife

Don't laugh, caffeine does this to Jake's eyebrows.

Slowly put Matt down, put your hands in the air and back away.

Drama Queens Ari and Jackie let loose for the camera.

Jessie and Jarid provide warmth for t-shirt-wearing Zita.

What movie would you most like to be in?

Who is that hiding behind Jay?

Jen, Rachel, and Maura pick what they want as they wait in line at the Grill.

Michelle, Amanda and Lauren appear work hard to complete their International Fair scavenger hunts.

Don't these guys know that the library is for studying?

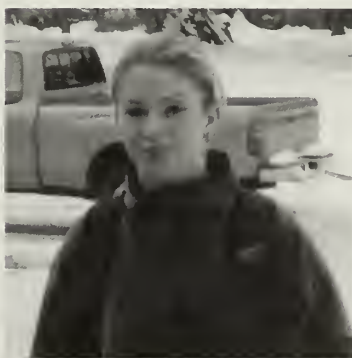

Katherine and Ari cozy up in the Cobb Room while Rachel wonders if the books are real.

Liz headed for Symphony Hall or Town Hall?

Nobody lays a finger on Kelsey and Anya's Butterfinger!

Thank goodness for Chef Boyardee!

Come on Keri, winter's not so bad.

Oh no, don't drop Ted, he's a cool kid!!!

Two of the five freshmen redheads, Kate and Lesley, grin before a run around the track.

Careful! That enthusiasm might be catching.

Someone drank all my Pepsi One. Could it be Greg?

Who knew that Jake was such a ladies' man?

Smile boys, you've just won a million dollars!

MARTY'S ANGELS

clued-in

in dreams

Hypnotist Ronny Romm returned to GDA this year with the same mission: to make students do absurd and hilarious things. To demonstrate his psychic abilities, he asked a number of students to write down their names and intimate questions, while he blindfolded himself. With his eyes covered with coins and industrial tape, he not only read what was on each person's paper, but he answered their questions. Next, he hypnotized a number of volunteers and the show took a hilarious turn. He had students under hypnosis perform ridiculous acts, among them seducing brooms, becoming the Spice Girls, falling in love with imaginary fish, and using X-ray glasses. The crowd had a wonderful time - Ronny Romm is definitely invited back next year.

BOYS IN BLACK

JESS AND CAITLIN'S HIGH SCHOOL REUNION

boogie nights formal 2001

It's a good thing these formal photos are in black and white because in them, everyone's nose is red from the bitter cold weather of May 18th. But, you will notice that everyone, even those people with minimal clothing, are smiling, evidence that all enjoyed themselves despite the frigid weather. The evening began with the obligatory photo session in the Quad and after a bus ride that lasted just long enough for everyone's fingers and toes to thaw, we arrived at Nick's Comedy Stop and The Venue in Boston. In this quaint (translation: tiny) club, there was dinner and dancing and many used the small size of the dance floor as an excuse to move closer to their dates. Soon, the DJ announced the last song and we rode to a pier where we boarded the Odyssey, a large boat in which we cruised the harbor. Here there was more food and more music and by the end of the ride nearly everyone was exhausted, due to excesses of turkey sandwiches or dancing. So while Jack Frost may have numbed a few appendages, he certainly didn't put a damper on what turned out to be a successful and enjoyable evening.

Wow, lucky Shannon Falvey hooked Antonio Valverde as her date.

Emily Ouimette and Joe Shedosky are such a dapper couple.

Even though Ralfie Rodriguez tries to hide it, he is just as excited as Jackie Swansburg for the night ahead.

Pete Ellis and Ande Tagliamonte show off their own unique take on prom style: feather boas and denim jackets.

Even Matt Phinney wanted to come back for the formal, but then again, who would miss the opportunity to dance with Kristen Gorham?

The line forms to the right, girls. Step right up to bid on one of these handsome eligible bachelors.

center stage the guild

This year was one of renovation for the Guild. 2000 marked not only the return of the long-absent Winter Guild, but also the demolition of Thompson, the Guild's venue. Faced with a much bigger workload, Guild organizers Jessamine Logan and Kaitlin Ebinger were unfazed by the challenges and produced three amazing concerts. They transformed the French Building, in turn, into Australia, the 1920s, and Las Vegas. The smaller space actually proved a boon to the Guild by creating a more intimate atmosphere. In fact, it was almost like an open mic night at a coffee house and there were many who wanted their chance to perform. The wide spectrum of the talent of GDA students was showcased: some sang, some danced, some played instruments and one even taught us how to hunt crocodiles. It was a year of Guilds filled with unforgettable performances. Thanks, Jess and Kaitlin!

senior nite

This year the senior class changed things: they put on a carnival that was a great success. It was organized by senior class officers Maria Moore, Derek Falvey and Joe Fannon.

The night began with a Varsity Men's Soccer game under the lights against Nobles where there was a great turnout of fans dressed in kilts and various other wild and crazy Halloween costumes.

Inside the fieldhouse there were all sorts of cool things to do. There were snowcones, popcorn and caramel apples along with a mechanical bull and pie throwing. There was also a live band run by seniors Bernie Christopher and Nate Efinger. The Haunted Trail through the second floor was the highlight of the night. Hopefully next year, the tradition will continue.

junior nite

On February 9th, in the midst of a bitterly cold winter season, the GDA Dining Hall was transformed into a spinning mass of red, pink and white decorations that held one of the years hottest events: the 2001 Valentine's Day Dance. Coordinated by the junior class and advisor extraordinaire, Mr. Gettings, this dance was the first ever held in the Dining Hall. After the stunning dance recital everyone headed to the dance all decked out and ready for a great night. As MCs Kenny Studmire and Vanessa Russell spent their time energizing the crowd, the dazzling light effects and well played mix of R&B, hip hop, and techno kept everyone dancing all night long. After a week of auctioning off dates with senior class members, the high bidders got a chance to share a dance with their prize. Throughout the night everyone was encouraged to cast their vote for GDA's cutest couple and after a close race with Becca Novis and Malcolm Smith, Jessica Gray and Ben Bizier pulled ahead to come out victorious. And so the Junior Class' 2001 Valentine's Day Dance was truly an unforgettable evening.

~Kristen Gorham and Allison Sparks '02

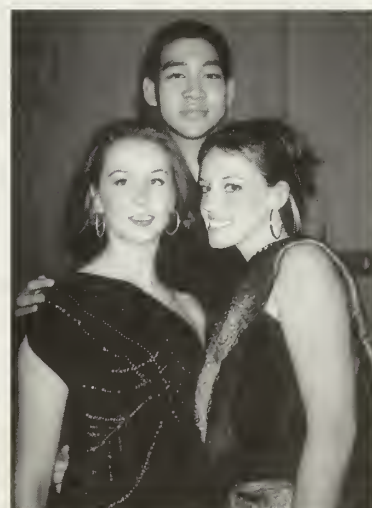

the red carpet

This year at GDA the student body got to experience their second fashion show. Run and designed by Didi Hediprasetyo, it was a great success. The focus of the show was formal style. All of the men wore rented tuxedos that matched the saris and dresses worn by the girls; these dresses were accessorized with boas, sequins and fancy hair styles. Everything was designed by Didi with the help of Liz Kelleher. All of the models strutted down the aisle to the music of Sting and for the show's finale, they led in the "angel," Ashley Bird, to her man, Nino Balestrieri. Didi had also designed masks for each of the models, which were a dramatic addition to the show. Didi, we can't wait for your first fashion show in Paris!

Right-A rare quiet moment in Thompson.

Top-One of the Mr. Doggett's last Monday morning Kudos in Thompson. For the rest of the year, they had to take place in Mosley Chapel.

Middle-A last look at Thompson's band room. The new performing arts center will be large enough to accomodate the entire jazz band and orchestra.

Bottom-An outside view of Thompson on one of its last days standing.

You could call it a closing of a chapter in GDA's history, you could call it the end of an era, but whatever you choose to call it, it is an event that will affect GDA forever. The last concert at Thompson Auditorium was a beautiful display of GDA's immense talent and passion for the performing arts. Each individual and group performance came to life as the musicians and dancers had their last rendezvous on Thompson's stage.

After countless concerts, plays, and morning meetings, Thompson opened its doors for the last time on Friday, October 13th. The Fabulous Nightengales stepped up to the challenge of opening the show with harmony and elegance. The Academy Singers, the First, and the Orchestra continued the concert with strong, solid performances. The musicians and dancers dazzled the audience with the talent and diversity of their performances. At the closing of the show, the Big Wind had the honor of playing the last note ever to be heard in the theater.

Although Thompson's stage is gone, our memories of the extraordinary performances it held will last forever. And while this chapter in GDA's history ends, another begins with the construction of a new performing arts center where GDA's musicians will continue to flourish for many years to come.

This fall's production could not have been more intense. Mr. Wann led us down the road to brilliance with Jeff Rath, a great tech. crew, and stage manager Tina Benson. Focused around the Greek mythology that leads Medea to Jason (of the Golden Fleece) and the music of Traey Chapman, Medea was a haunting story of love and betrayal.

The play opened with the performance of Chapman's "For You" and from there, the audience was quickly drawn into the unfolding story presented by Medea's nurse (Cait McIntosh). As the plot thickened, there was not a dry eye in the house. Jess Rybicki delivered a hair-raising performance as Medea, with Tyler Collins opposite her as Jason.

Didit Hediprasetyo shocked us all with his harsh words as the King of Corinth, just as Sarah Garth showed compassion in caring for Medea and Jason's children (played by Rory and Nora Hamovit). Mike Askenase gave a good name to the King of Athens, just as Jason's men put up a good fight.

The play was not one to be taken lightly. From the Medea chorus' chant of "You die" to the Corinthian woman's kindly advice to the horrific death of how to succeed in business without really trying

Jason's wife, Creusa (Jyllian Paul), Medea is a performance to remember.

The winter drama for the 2000-2001 season was one to remember. Not even Thompson's demolition prevented an excellent musical from taking place. "How to Succeed in Business Without Really Trying" soon became "How to Put On a Show in an Old School Theater" when it was decided that the Grange Theater in downtown Byfield would be the play's venue. It was a struggle, perhaps, getting bussed over to the set every afternoon, learning our lines and singing our songs about succeeding in business, something none of us have any idea about since we are high school students. But we did it, with much success and applause. Our opening night (our first actual dress rehearsal!) went off without a hitch. We came together as a team and became closer in our cooperative push for success. Altogether, we performed three shows, each packed with an audience of smiling faces. Jokes flew, improv was efficient and we danced our way through "Brotherhood of Man." All in all, we had a good time, led by Wanny, Connolly-Potts, Mr. Rath, our fab tech crew, and awesome/super cool orchestra. Many thanks to all. Secretaries and Executives keep the drama spirit alive in the new theater!

mr. stowens' opus

With only one concert in Thompson this year, the GDA community was skeptical as to how the remaining concerts would be run. Mr. Stowens made the loss of Thompson seem trivial when he proved that the Mosley Chapel would be a great place for the remaining three concerts. The music department still could put on a great performance that the community could still look forward to.

The Chorus performed beautifully for the second year under the direction of Ms. Connelly-Potter. They sang an extraordinary medley from Les Mis to end the year. This year, GDA saw a new singing group on campus, the Nightengales, the new all women's choir arranged by Potter. These girls sang beautifully and amazed the audience with their lark-like voices. Along with the Academy Singers and the Nightengales, GDA's The First, the advanced choir, again raised the expectations for the GDA chorus. There were many great performances from the student chorus that included Broadway tunes, Motown, and the theme from the Wizard of Oz. We are expecting more amazing performances from the GDA chorus in the future.

The GDA Chorus program, however, did not over-shadow the Orchestra and The Big Wind. Lead by Mr. Stowens, this year the jazz band rocked GDA with tunes of Santana and the Blues Brothers. The orchestra also proved that practices paid off this year with many favorite classics.

Although this year GDA lost many talented musicians like Jessica Rybicki, Matt Herron, Nate Efinger, Catherine Whitney and Tim Lamson; next years returning talent is as good as ever. We will look forward to seeing fresh talent such as juniors Diana Cousins and Rachel Chung, sophomores Meghan O'Malley and Allison Tsao, and freshmen Zach Smith, Kelsey Quigley and Jillian Vavlitis. The future has much in store for the GDA music department.

-Lauren Bonaventura, '01

Rachel demonstrates her incredible talent on the piano with one of her favorite pieces.

During Parents' Weekend, Mr. Stowens directs the last concert in Thompson.

After a magnificent performance, Ms. Connelly-Potter shows off her Nightengales.

When he's on stage, Tim Lamson becomes Kenny G.

During Mosley Chapel's inaugural concert, The First blows the audience away with their beautiful harmonizing.

The Varsity Field Hockey 2000 season was full of many exciting moments. We started off with a huge win versus Phillips Exeter when we crushed them 8-1 with the play dominated by the underclassmen. Unlike the Exeter game where we were in control, we were the underdogs in many of our ISL games. A perfect example of this was our game at Groton, where we were down by one goal and came back with a goal from sophomore Jenna Wade, and the game winner from senior Megan Rothwell the first of her career. Our last game versus Milton was a very special one: the Schar twins, Coaches Gretchen and Molly, were competing against each other for the very first time. We were on the losing end early on, but during the second half we dominated offensively and scored two goals. Jenna Wade, the team's leading scorer, and co-captain Jess Ross, who scored the first goal of her career, were both assisted by co-captain Katy Brox. All in all, it was a great season with lots of fun and many memories ("Mind over body."-Jess Logan). Good luck next season!

The football team had a great year with a 5-2 record in the ISL. Our team was successful due to the extreme pride and dedication that each of our players put forward from the very first day that we stepped onto the field. The players' determination led to huge wins over BB&N, Brooks, Rivers, St. Sebastian's, and Lawrence, which put us in contention for the ISL championship. All of these wins were possible because of the leadership of the team's seniors, whose hard work encouraged everyone on the team to strive to the best of their ability, and the heart of the underclassmen. The seniors thank the team for a great season and wish next year's team the best of luck. 2+2=FOOTBALL

The Women's Varsity Soccer team had an unbelievable season this year. With 1 returning players, including 8 seniors, the team had a strong base and was complimented by the new additions who are destined to make their mark in the ISL. We finished the season 12-5-1 with many amazing achievements. We interrupted Milton's 49 game winning streak, denied Thayer twice (once in a monsoon and the other in the semi-finals), and made it all the way to the New England Class B Championship game. Not only did we succeed on the game field, we also worked hard every day in practice and came together as a team. We survived the grinds together and always came away from practice smiling. We were able to be serious and focused when we needed to be but we also knew how to joke around, like Gabe's quote of the season, "Ha Ha Manda..." It's hard to believe we won't be back next year to beat Middlesex and claim our spot as New England Champions, but we wish next year's team the best of luck. Thanks so much to our wonderful coaches Ms. McLain, Ms. Gerry and Mr. V! ~Captains Kim Jones, Meg Lloyd, and Emily Ouimette '01

The men's soccer team came to pre-season this fall ready for a vigorous week of preparatory drills and "short loops," anticipating an improvement on last season's effort. We had a fairly young team with only six seniors; it was the first time at the varsity level for most of the other players. Despite a lack of experience we were able to play well and competitively as a team; our record does not do the team justice. Our hard work does not show up on the scoreboard, as we found it challenging to get many goals off and consequently ended up on the losing side of some very close games. We would like to thank our fans for their support at every game, especially at those freezing night games toward the end of the fall. All in all, it was an enjoyable and memorable season. Good luck to next year's team!

Despite being very young and inexperienced, the girls' cross-country team surpassed its loftiest goals and realized its true potential. It lit up the ISL and New England courses and forced even opposing teams' spectators to cheer in awe at the runners' determination and enthusiasm. As a result, the season started with a win over ten other teams at the Pingree Invitational meet. This season-opening success sparked an undefeated season in the ISL, including a close win over Middlesex. After finishing third in the ISL Championship meet, with both Leslie Clunie (below) and Laura Ellison earning all-ISL honors, the season culminated with an incredible first in the New England Championships, a feat that the GDA girls had not accomplished since 1985. Five of our girls received all-New England honors for finishing within the top 15 out of an overall 105 runners. The team's final score at the New England's was an incredibly low at only 37 points.

I am exceedingly proud of each of the girls who all played such vital parts in the team's overall success. Remember "to make your own luck" and that anything is possible.

But many of our most lasting memories were not made during races, but during practice: we will never forget the Willowdale run or those long days at Maudslay. This fall was the second season of GDA's new outdoor program, now known as Kids Who Love Outdoors (KWLO). We began the season with biking, rope course activities and two great kayaking trips: one calm and peaceful paddle on the Essex River and one ocean adventure that was a nonstop adrenaline rush, to say the least. Later in the fall we did some rock climbing, both indoors and outdoors, as well as on the climbing wall that was recently installed in the Field House. After we perfected our knot tying and belaying techniques, we used the high elements of the GDA rope course, another new addition on campus. Some other activities that we did were swimming and water safety at the Newburyport YWCA and CPR certification. Toward the end of the season, everyone on the team shared a skill with the group in a series of small clinics. Many of these skills came in handy on our final activity, a camping overnight on Dr. Duffs land. We had a great group of 12 students and our two fearless faculty leaders, Ms. Ainsworth and Mrs. Rokous. All of us agree that the outdoor program has been a fun and exciting new afternoon activity and we hope to enjoy it through many future seasons.

The GDA Ski Club had another undefeated season to continue their reign as the best team in school history. Led by senior quad-captains Matt Herron, Brad Kasnet, Larry Lyons, and John Shuster, the "team" won another New England championship to continue the proud tradition of this dynasty. We suffered through grueling practices, sometimes two or three times in a single week. We fought through hard matches in rain and slush at the Bradford bump, in snowy blizzards at Loon Mountain, and in bitter and cold winds at Waterville Valley. Mr. Gosse and Señor Blanco made up the coaching staff in their final winters at Governor Dummer and led us through our season. The season ended with the ski club's annual bowling tournament. Good luck to next year's ski club who will be led by new coaches and leaders who will no doubt carry on this tradition of excellence.

What a super season! We were completely unbeatable. No matter how high we set our standards, we beat them easily, finishing the season undefeated and as the 2001 New England Champions! Every girl on the team played a crucial part in our success: Freshman Emily Moore was named the league tournament All-Star; Sophomores Kelsey Shannahan, Gabby Petraglia, and Kendra Wroblewski brought concentration, hard work, and giggles to the court; Juniors Angela Romano and Rachel Manikian are wonderful girls and talented athletes who will bring valuable leadership to the team next year. The hard work of co-captain Nicole Robbat encouraged everyone on the team to push themselves to their limits; she is a true MVP. Senior Courtney Craft played a vital role in the success of the team, acting as a wall at the net - nothing got by her - and co-captain Liz Kelleher has been contributing to the success of this team for all four of her years on it. I was so proud of this team and thank them so much for making this the best season I could have wished for!

The 2001 GDA wrestlers were blessed with some very pleasant surprises. We began the year with a new coaching staff: Mr. Brace moved up to the position of head coach and Mr. Waldman replaced him as assistant coach. The team gained some late comers this year, with Nino Balestrieri joining the team after three years of hockey and Alex Graham pinning the first five opponents he ever wrestled. Nearing the end of the season, we had the pleasure of Coach Lujan flying out from New Mexico to run an especially productive high-intensity technical clinic. We especially enjoyed the 5:30a.m. runs before classes. The team finished with a satisfying record and even more satisfying was our performance at the Grave-Kelsey league tournament where, after entering in ninth, we finished in fifth place. We had three Champions and one runner-up. The most exhilarating match was wrestled by Nino in the semi-finals when he pinned the first seat wrestler. Over all, it was another enjoyable season and we look forward to tackling (or wrestling) next year's season.

As captains Beth (C), Meaghan (A) and Meg (A), we would like to thank the team especially our fellow seniors Hannah, Kim, and Emily, on a great season and to wish next year's team the best of luck in the following season. To Cega and Peanut Gallery (Broms): we would just like to tell you how much you meant to the team and thank you for being understanding in all of the problems we had, even if it was just Ashley Foley not understanding yet another drill. Making the New Englands was only a dream until we beat Holderness in a tough, well-fought game. We had a great season and we hope that you guys all enjoyed it as much as we did. You guys were a great team and we enjoyed every minutes of the season. Thanks for everything and best of luck next year.

The GDA Men's Varsity Hockey team followed up a mediocre '99-'00 season with one of our best seasons in six years. What made this season so successful was the way our team meshed and played together, instead of as individuals. Consequently, we were able to beat teams, such as Lawrence Academy and Thayer Academy, that we hadn't beaten in eight or nine years. Our most rewarding victory this year came when we handed the previously undefeated ISL and New England Champions, St. Sebastian's School, their first and only loss of the season in a thrilling overtime victory. We also gave them their only tie in a home game which we skated to a 1-1 deadlock. We would like to thank our fans for their awesome support. They propelled us to many home victories and watched as we won all but one of our home games. You have given our team memories that we will not soon forget. Also, thank you to Joe Fannon and Joe Levitt for being at every home game no matter what. Thank you to all our seniors and Coaches K, G, and Mac. Good luck to next year's team and captains Pete Langella, Ben Corriveau, and JJ Morrissey.

This season, the girls basketball team started off strongly and never quit. We played our hardest every game and worked even harder during practices, which helped us during the tougher games. Our record shows how hard we worked all season and how badly we wanted to be on top when the playoffs started. We finished in first place in our league with an undefeated record and went on to become the New England Champions! Everyone on the team wanted to hang a banner in the gym for the first time in the program's history and we succeeded! Of course, we owe a debt of gratitude to the coaches who pushed us to achieve our goals: Thank you Coach Suggs and Coach Stickney. Good luck to next years team in hopes that they can stay on top!

This year's basketball team had its own distinct character, which helped guide the team to its best record, 18-10, since the 1997-98 season when the Governors won the New England Championship. The team came in second in the New England after a loss to a strong St. Andrews team. The combination of fun loving guys, great coaches and helpful managers made this group a real team and allowed us to enter every competition together. Captain Marco "Guru" Joubert's ability to be a floor general sparked the team in its quest to be New England Champions and Captian Leuis "Fozzi" Olivero was also a leader on the floor, scoring many needed points for the team. Two second year players played integral roles in the success of the team: Antonio Valverde helped out in the rebounding department and Steve "Gorgeous" Georgoulis was always able to step up and help out the team. Georgoulis's post-mate and new player Kenny "Bang-Bang" Studmire also provided a boost in the previously undermanned rebounding section. Even the members of the team who didn't play much contributed with support from the bench and hard play when they did step onto the court. The team's starting five received All League and All League Honorable Mention which is quite a feat. Thank you to our coaches Metz and Van Ness, as well as our managers Kelly McGrath and Carter Semple for a great season. ~Leuis Olivero '01

This year's winter dance season at GDA was full of many changes - new participants, new teachers, new styles, and a new performance space as the dancers anxiously await the completion of the new performing arts center. While the junior year "veterans," Rachelle Dennis, Heather Jameson, and Francesca DeMeo, returned for their third year of dance at GDA, freshman Sarah LeBlanc and sophomore Libby Bernard and Liz Hicks joined the program for the first time. Though a small group with a variety of experience and skill levels, the dancers learned a lot, improved immensely, and enjoyed the entire season. Much of the progress is due to Ms. Slater, who exposed the GDA dancers to traditional ballet instruction for the first time. Rachelle and Heather contributed to the dance season by teaching jazz and hip-hop twice a week and by choreographing a group number that opened up the Winter Dance Concert on February 9th. Three other dances were included in the recital that was held before a large crowd in the Old Frost Library. The performance was the culmination of weeks of hard work for the dancers, who can't wait until next year's season.

This year, the Varsity Martial Arts team bounded forward reaching and surpassing goals and transcending the boundaries set by inflexibility, lack of concentration and fear. With captains Jordan Runnion, Katie Brox, Megan Rothwell and Jessica E. Watson to guide them using last year's talents, the team mastered skills like flips, rolls and deep meditations. Not one, but two intensely difficult tiger forms were learned, both of which could be utilized to paralyze a foe and protect one's self from harm. The team mastered the front kick, side kick, triple kick and high kick with no (serious) injuries sustained. Led by Mr. Nguyen, the GDA martial arts team heightened the chi and harnessed inner energy with the finger of death meditation and others. The team also mastered both the nunchucks and the bow staff. The season was finished off with a beautiful Chinese New Year's tiger dance and a team performance showing all of our new skills. All in all, students went in gooey balls of cheese and came out glowing balls of chi. Thanks se-fu.

The varsity softball team improved greatly over the course of the season. Although our record does not show it, we had a lot of talent and energy throughout the year. We never gave up on ourselves and this determination paid off in some of the season's more memorable games, most notably when we defeated Tabor, the only competitor to beat the league's number one team, Brooks. This game demonstrated the strong unity and improvement that our team had experienced by the end of the season. The new freshmen, Amanda, Katie, and Jackie, were able to step it up from the start of the season to fill crucial holes in the field and at bat. Shannon, our starting pitcher, held the team together and constantly got us out of difficult situations in the field. Gabe-o, always making the team laugh, was a consistent wall at first. Jess Gray and Caroline always gave 100% and came willing to learn everyday. Romano, Katie Lang, Tina, Julia, Cait, and Sparks also contributed tremendously to our determined defense and offense. Good luck to next year's team; you girls made this final season a memorable one.

This year's baseball season certainly had its ups and downs. Under the guidance of Coaches Markey and Gettings, the team showed off its talent and its maturity on the field. The highlights of the season came when the Governors had a five game winning streak and ended the season with a three game winning streak, putting them above the .500 mark. This would not have been possible without the incredible pitching of Derek Falvey (at left), who ended his high school career by pitching a no hitter. This year has been filled with timely hits, sharp defensive plays, and dominating pitching. Hitters like Matt Tomasetta, Matt Lee, Paul Skinner, Lenny Ceglarski, and Allen Cooper were very successful in moving a runner along or driving in runs. They always came through when it was needed most. Pitching performances by Falvey, Tomasetta, Cooper, Mike Zbriger and Trip Kaiser were key to the team's successes. This team had a winning combination that will continue to through the upcoming years. Thanks to the Coaches. Best of luck next year!

The women's lacrosse team began its amazing 2001 season with a five game winning streak. One of these games was a shut out against Nobles. Every girl's effort contributed to the success of the team: Beth Depratto and Delia Cox led the team offensively, while Jackie Swansburg had an excellent season defending the goal. The New England Lacrosse team even took five of the team's girls to play for them: Delia Cox, Mel Borque, Nicole Robbat, Vanessa Russell and Kendra Wroblewski. These girls represented GDA well during their competitions. Seniors Depratto, Mel Lloyd, and Kim Jones provided strong leadership for the team and contributed both offensively and defensively. The team finished the season with a respectable 12-4 record. Next year's team looks poised to do some serious damage in the ISL with a strong group of talented underclassmen.

With a number of returning players, expectations for this year's team were high. The Dogs got a good start by winning four of the first five games, the highlight being the defeat of St. Paul's on our home field to win back the Gillespie-Anderson Cup. After a heartbreaking OT loss to Middlesex in what was one of the greatest lacrosse games ever played at GDA, the Govs continued to play strong lacrosse. Winning their last six ISL games, the team finished second in the league with a 9-2 record, tying the school's record. Led by Captains Justin Becker, Chris DeLisle, and JJ Morrissey, every player worked hard throughout the season and were ultimately rewarded for their efforts. Becker, Morrissey, and Taylor Brown received First Team All ISL honors and Chris Jones received an Honorable Mention, while DeLisle was awarded a bid to the Senior East West All Star Game. Next year should prove to be even more successful with the return of a core of letter winners. With more hard work, the Red Dogs should have no problem improving their record and taking their skills to the next level. Good luck to you next year, boys. Here we go Govs!

The girls track team knew from the start that we had what it would take to have an amazing season. Each individual girl understood her commitment to the team and what they had to contribute to our overall success. Our determination and strong will to win led us to eight seasonal wins, a third place finish in the ISL Championships and a close fourth in the New Englands. As captain of this team, I am proud to have led such a motivated squad of girls. The girls' competitive attitudes inspired me to reach for my toughest goals and not be afraid to achieve them. I can only hope that I have provided them with a solid base on which to reach for the sky. Next year I will come back to visit and see all you girls in your pink sports bras that will ensure many victories. I want to leave you girls with this last quote: "The will to win means nothing if you haven't the will to prepare." - Juma Ikangaa, 1989 NYC Marathon winner. Go for it! Its all within your reach.

This year in track, the boys were surprised with a very successful season. Their numbers were small, but the feats they accomplished were most impressive. Their record in the regular season was good for a Division III school competing against the Division I and Division II schools in the league. The team struggled to come together at the beginning of the season and so it was in the second half that the boys' talent was able to shine. They developed a different attitude and their determination became more evident, especially in the championship races. The boys had a very promising 6th place finish in the ISL meet and went on to become the runners-up at the New England Prep School Division III Championship. They finished only 11 points shy of the title. The team impressed their coaches and captains by coming together and working as a team at the most crucial point of the season. The captains would like to thank the coaches, runners and throwers for an impressive and fun year in track.

The women's varsity tennis season, although not very successful, was a lot of fun. Joining last year's returners (Jess Ross, Jackie Ross, Genna Grasso, Kate Hugo, and Eden Gudonis) were freshman Katherine Paul and sophomore Erin Shedd. The team won all of their non-league matches, but the competition in the ISL was a lot more fierce. After losing a tight match to St. Mark's and tying with rival Brooks, we truly cherished our huge win over Lawrence. We struggled with the loss of our number three player, Eden Gudonis, to a season long injury, but this gave the other girls a great opportunity to play up. Jackie (at right) and Jess were very successful at the top of the singles ladder and they were undefeated as a doubles team. With the loss of only one player next year, this team will have the core returning and will have a great chance in moving up in the ISL ranks. Best of luck next year, I am going to miss you all!

The golf team had an outstanding year, finishing in third place in the ISL with the most wins (nine) that the team has had in many years. The team also finished a respectable fifth in the ISL tournament. Thirteen guys along with Mr. Moonves and Mr. Ceglarski came together to have good times every day on the golf course, although, how can you go wrong playing golf every day? The team can look forward to even more success in the future as all of the players are returning next year except seniors Scott Mayo and Tim Lamson. A couple of highlights from the season include Andrew "Baby Huey" Lundquist's even par round at Portsmouth Country Club and Aanand "Vijay" Radia's near loss to a seventh grade girl. Good luck to next year's team, a league championship is well within their reach.

THE TWO HUNDRED AND THIRTY-EIGHTH

GRADUATION EXERCISES
JUNE 1, 2001

celebrating four years

Graduating demands a certain amount of festivity and so, amid final exams and last minute packing, the Class of 2001 celebrated their completion of high school during Senior Week. There were dinners, speeches, awards ceremonies, and musical performances. The celebration kicked off with the Senior-Faculty Dinner where Swami Searles predicted many of the seniors' futures and where Meaghan Barnaby and Beth Depratto put on a slide show documenting a plethora of memories from the past four years. Seniors' families joined the action on Thursday at Baccalaureate where Megan Rothwell's mother was the featured speaker and shared her children's fondest memories of their GDA careers, encouraging each senior to reflect on his or her time at the Academy and the magnitude of its effect on him or her. Ben Mitchell also ventured to the podium where he shared his own reasons for gratitude for his time at Governor Dummer. Later that evening, it was time for the school to show its appreciation of the seniors and their contributions to the community with an awards ceremony. Twelve hours later, the seniors convened at Mansion House for a final breakfast, where they were together for the last time. Then, it was time for the commencement ceremony to begin. Student Body President Derek Falvey delivered the opening speech and a few awards later, environmentalist

Bill McKibben graced the podium. During his address, he put the fate of the world into the seniors' hands, encouraging them to take care of the planet and to be prepared to rise to the occasion when, inevitably, it comes time to answer for the environmental problems inherited from his generation. Diplomas and the traditional jumping of the wall followed, as did more than a few hugs and tears. But, above all, it was a time for celebration, because as the word commencement suggests, graduation is truly a beginning, a beginning to our lives, a beginning to our accomplishments.

MORSE FLAG

The Morse Flag was first awarded 88 years ago at the 150th Commencement of this school on June 9, 1913, and it has been awarded each year since that time to the senior whose record in all respects has met with the highest approval of the faculty. According to the trust established by the late Reverend Glenn Tilley Morse, a long-time friend and trustee of the Academy, a new flag is provided each year in order that the old flag that has flown over the school during the past year may be given to a member of the graduating class.

Next year will mark the thirtieth anniversary of co-education at Governor Dummer and it seems fitting that we herald that watershed by celebrating the achievement of a fine scholar-athlete. This young woman emulates many of the qualities that we wish for all young women. One of the quietest, more reserved members of her class, this four-year student finds her voice both in the classroom and on the athletic field. She is a dedicated scholar, an interested, motivated, and curious student who has been insatiable in her quest for true mastery of content. Many of her teachers describe the palpable joy in her face as she discovers an answer or understands a new concept. She engages on a different level than most in the classroom as she conscientiously and tenaciously pursues the unknown, whether that is an understanding of the motivation of a character, the sound of a certain note, or the pluperfect subjunctive in Spanish. Her math teacher reports, "her solutions to calculus problems could be used as a textbook answer key." She transfers that same determination and enthusiasm, that same quest for knowledge, into a quest for victory every time she dons the cardinal red and steps onto an athletic field. A varsity athlete for ten of her twelve seasons at Governor Dummer, this young woman has earned numerous accolades for her outstanding play and sportsmanship, including coaches' awards, MVP honors, and five seasons of All League status. Her teammates recognize and appreciate the quiet strength of their soccer and softball captain who leads her teams to victory with the strength of her foot, the power of her arm, and the determination of her spirit. Her character is outstanding, and as a Co-President of the Christian Fellowship, she willingly shared her faith with others. Most importantly of all, she lives her faith, and she uses strength and courage that belief may bring to touch the lives of others. Eleanor Roosevelt in her Autobiography reminds us that "Life was meant to be lived, and curiosity must be kept alive. One must never, for whatever reason, turn her back on life." Because her heart and mind run in only one direction, forward, we honor this year's recipient of the Morse Flag.

Emily Rose Ouimette

PETER W. BRAGDON HEADMASTER'S CUP

Peter W. Bragdon Headmaster's Cup is given to that senior, who, in the judgment of the headmaster, has served the mission of the school.

This young woman's personal accomplishments are considerable. She is an outstanding scholar, inquisitive, conscientious, and determined, who earned Cum Laude recognition as a junior. She has challenged herself as an athlete, leading her team to a New England Championship. She has explored her soul as an artist, creating wonderfully evocative renderings. Her voice has helped to make the beautiful sounds of the Academy Singers. She was a behind the scenes presence that allowed the football team and the weekly Open House in the Mansion House to function effectively. She was selected to be a dormitory proctor because she is reliable, trustworthy, and generous with her friendship. She chaired the Social Committee and helped to inject new energy and creativity into weekend activities. We honor this young woman, however, for qualities that are more intangible, but nevertheless real and vitally important for this school. She has been the glue that has bound together the Class of 2001. Her enthusiasm has been infectious, genuine, and constant. There is nothing calculating, self serving, or pretentious about anything she does. She puts her heart and soul into every endeavor. She has been a force for good.

ACADEMY PRIZE

There are two prizes which are awarded by vote of the entire faculty: One is the Morse Flag, the other, the Academy Prize. Upon retirement of Headmaster Ted Eames in 1959, the underclassmen of the Academy endowed the already existing Academy Prize so that henceforth at each Commencement it could be given "in honor of Edward W. and Eleanor K. Eames so that the qualities they so deeply prized might be prized in turn by future and succeeding classes."

Grantland Rice, the legendary journalist, once wrote, "When the Great Scorer comes to write against your name, he marks not that you won or lost, but how you played the game." Our recipient approaches each day, every challenge, and every opportunity with unbridled energy and optimism. He has played the game with the consummate skill of a virtuoso machine, the grace of a dancer, the passion of an artist, the quiet determination of an Olympic athlete, the empathy of a hospice worker, the class of a gentleman, and the sense of humor of a leprechaun. His teachers wax poetic about his contributions to the intellectual tone of their classrooms: "He is a welcome voice of reason and clarity in class;" "He is a model student who invests the time and energy necessary to produce high quality work;" "His spirit and focus are exemplary;" "The class benefits significantly from his thoughtful participation.

He always sets a good example for others;" "It has been a pleasure to teach him." The accolades are uniform, unqualified, and sincere. There is probably no student at the Academy more in the public eye than our honoree; As President of the School, quarterback of the football team, captain of the baseball squad, Proctor in a freshman dormitory, campus tour guide, he occupies positions that carry with them considerable responsibility. He has handled these obligations with characteristic self-effacing modesty. If something needs to be done, he instinctively springs into action. He is the one who will organize the pep rally, spend time with a homesick student, come to the defense of someone being teased or console a teammate who has been injured. He is refreshingly genuine and firmly grounded. His warmth, generosity of spirit, and loyalty have inspired us all to be more positive, less cynical, and more considerate of others. From the day he enrolled at Governor Dummer Academy, we all knew he was the "real deal." He has never disappointed on this promise. Now as he prepares to move on to Trinity, we realize how lucky we were to be in his shadow. He has taught us how to play the game of life, how to derive satisfaction from a job well done, how to appreciate the gift of family and friends, how to be comfortable with oneself, and how to enjoy the journey to the fullest.

Derek Stephen Falvey

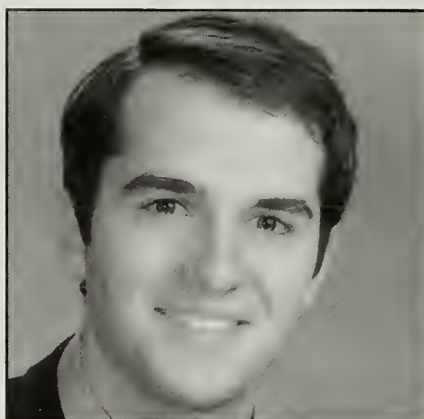

THORNDIKE HILTON CUP

The Thorndike Hilton Cup was established by the class of 1919 in memory of their classmate, Thorndike Hilton. It is awarded each year to the ranking scholar in the senior class.

The recipient of this year's Thorndike Hilton Cup has been an outstanding scholar in all areas of study during her four years at the Academy. The only student in the graduating class to take four Advanced Placement courses in her senior year, she supports her extraordinary talent and academic curiosity with resourcefulness and determination. Her Advanced Placement US History research paper on the shadowy 19th century labor organization, the Molly Maguires, earned her an A from the National Writing Board, a significant distinction given the average grade of C from this prestigious group. This scholar dedicates herself to excellence in other areas as well, notably in her work as coeditor of the yearbook where she has used her talent, her ingenuity, and her vision to record this year's humorous moments, interesting predicaments, and significant accomplishments for the class of 2001.

BARRISKIL PRIZE

To a senior who has made an outstanding contribution in the field of music at the Academy.

In a school where music is so much a part of our lives and where so many students participate in its numerous forms, members of the class of 2001 in particular have established new levels of leadership and excellence in the various styles of music that grace our campus. Individually and collectively, you have brought us much joy and inspired those who will follow in your footsteps. With a plethora of talented musicians it is difficult to single out just one or two individuals for special recognition. However, two members of the graduating class deserve special praise. One is a gifted singer who has sung memorable solos and duets in almost every concert. She has graced the stage as the lead in our musicals. She has been a great section leader and a mentor and friend to younger students.

The other just basically fiddled around. Yes, he was concertmaster of the orchestra, but really his claim to fame is his fabulous and unforgettable fiddling. His talent is the stuff of legend. Both of these young people have been remarkable ambassadors for the school. The Academy is a better place because of their contributions. We have been blessed to know and hear them.

Catherine Perry Whitney & Matthew David Herron

PETER MARSHALL FRENCH TROPHY

To a student at any level whose perseverance, sportsmanship and generous spirit on the playing field, regardless of distinction as an athlete, represent the highest standards of participation.

A letter winner in football, lacrosse, and wrestling, the recipient of the French Trophy is a dedicated athlete - an individual who chooses to participate for the love, not the glory, of the sport. He excelled in a sport that typically draws few spectators. Yet, this year, it was not unusual for large numbers of students and faculty to find their way into the wrestling room to watch this talented grappler pin his opponent with the most calculated and skilfully executed movements. On both the football and lacrosse fields he was a coach's dream, willingly and unselfishly playing whatever role would be in the best interests of the team. His determination, dedication, enthusiasm, and character make him a most deserving recipient of this award.

Ian C. Hughes

GOODWIN ATHLETIC PRIZE

To a senior who by his athletic achievement and sportsmanship has brought the greatest honor to his school during the past year.

The recipient of this award is a fierce competitor who has been relentless in his efforts to achieve his potential as an athlete. However, this drive for excellence has never muted his commitment to sportsmanship or his sense of fair play. He viewed participation in the arena of competition as a privilege and showed great respect for teammates and opponents alike. Regardless of the outcome of a contest, he always conducted himself like a gentleman and as a worthy representative of Governor Dummer Academy. He has earned All ISL League honors in two sports and narrowly missed this distinction in a third. He leads by example, bringing perseverance, passion, and the importance of competing at one's highest level.

ANNE MARIE MURPHY ATHLETIC AWARD

To the senior girl who, by her example and achievements in athletics, has brought the greatest honor to her school during the past year.

The recipient of this award boasts an impressive list of accomplishments: Nine varsity letters in three years, seven All ISL League recognitions, and routinely being selected as the Most Valuable Player of her team. She has been the heart, soul, and muscle of every team with which she has been affiliated. Her tremendous ability has inspired her teammates, dazzled spectators, and frustrated opponents. Three sport athletes of her caliber and level of skill are rarities. Her coaches feel privileged to have worked with such a remarkable talent. GDA has benefited from her presence on our fields and we will follow her collegiate career with much interest.

Mary Frances Elizabeth Depratto

THESPIAN AWARD

Awarded for meritorious work in the field of dramatics, for inspiring participation, providing leadership, and developing theatrical knowledge and abilities.

She pronounces her words "trippingly on the tongue." She does not "saw the air too much with her hand." She disciplines her passion with a temperance that gives it smoothness. She is "not too tame neither." She lets her discretion be her tutor. She "suits the action to the word, the word to the action," and she does not "overstep the modesty of nature." Thus in her playing, her writing, her singing, she follows Hamlet's immortal advice to artists to hold "the mirror up to nature: to show virtue her feature, scorn her own image, and the very age and body of the time his form and pressure."

EDWARD J. RYBICKI PRIZE

To the graduating senior who, as a member of the staff of The Governor, best demonstrates the qualities found in the teacher for whom the prize is named: selflessness, sense of humor, responsibility toward the welfare of others, and the courage to live by a strong set of personal beliefs.

With two strong editors-in-chief and a committed staff, the 2000-2001 version of The Governor made significant strides in layout, content, equipment upgrades, and regularity of publication. This year's winner of the Rybicki Prize brought a conscientious work effort, a sense of duty, and a journalistic flair to the newspaper. He is an outstanding exemplar of the virtues listed in the prize description, and recognized as such by the vote of his colleagues on the Governor's staff.

Bradley Garfield Kasnet

ALUMNI ASSOCIATION AWARD

To a senior who has shown community spirit and concern within the Academy and has displayed qualities of awareness and humanity.

The 2001 recipient of the Alumni Association Award has been an influential member of our community for four years. His presence has meant a great deal to all of us. As a participant and leader in the arts, in athletics, and in campus organizations such as the Discipline Committee, Special Olympics, and FLIP, he has demonstrated a keen desire to affect the outcome. He tries, he cares, he produces. Last year, he won an award that exemplified motivation, hard work, and commitment to every area of life at Governor Dummer Academy, earning the respect and admiration of his teachers and his peers. And in his senior year, his motivation and commitment have grown even stronger as evidenced by his leadership roles in the dormitory and in PRIDE where his voice is strong and even. He will be missed, but we have learned a great deal from him.

Leuis Manuel Olivero

MERCER ART PRIZE

Awarded to that senior with exceptional creativity and originality who has maintained a primary interest in the Fine Arts, has completed with honor grades all available Studio Art and Art History courses at the Academy, and has participated in all relevant activities in search of artistic awareness and proficiency.

She has an exuberant affection for words and images. She is a superb writer and outstanding photographer, but she describes herself as "an observer." She creates meaningful artwork from that which is most difficult to truly see and appreciate - the fleeting moments of clarity that describe the look and feel of experience. Her photographs possess grace, surprise, delight, and passion. She sees with a clear, sharp eye and she works with energy and determination. Transforming her observations into art has kept her fully alive to the world; her joy of discovery is evident in all her artwork. The words and images she offers to us express the treasures of her heart. Her art is a dazzling gift for all of us to enjoy.

CUMINGS PRIZE

To a student who has shown perseverance, hard work, and good spirit contributing to the welfare of the school.

The recipient of the Cumings Prize is a high profile member of this distinguished class. He has achieved notoriety as an athlete; he was an All ISL running back for the football team and leading hitter and co-captain of the baseball squad. Other extracurricular organizations have benefited from his leadership - Red Key and Tour Guides immediately come to mind. He has been an accessible and effective Proctor. He has not allowed these significant involvements in the co-curricular life of the Academy to detract from or compromise his academic work. He has compiled a scholastic record worthy of praise. All of this said, our recipient's contribution to the school goes well beyond these achievements. They are at once more subtle yet in the final analysis more powerful. By force of his personality and character, he has helped to set a distinctive tone on this campus. He has been a symbol of dependability, open mindedness, and maturity. His honesty and sense of fairness have been a model for younger students to emulate and a source of pride for the faculty.

Matthew Robert Lee

GAFFNEY PRIZE

To a senior who, in the opinion of the faculty, has been most considerate of the rights, opinions, and sensibilities of others.

She is a loyal friend who quietly deflects attention and praise to others, an unselfish teammate who would rather pass than score, and a determined, devoted student who inspires classmates with her diligence. Teachers love to teach her. Coaches love to coach her. Her friends feel lucky to know her. Her sincerity is real and unfaltering. She is gentle, considerate, and unassuming, and she has quietly and steadily enriched our school.

Kimberly Frances Jones

SARAH ELLEN AVALON AWARD

Awarded to that senior who through hard work, determination, and strength of character, has worked to develop his or her potential to the fullest and in so doing has been a true credit to this school.

This year's winner personifies kindness. Making kindness an acronym, we begin: K stands for knowledgeable, which she is as a scholar, athlete, and citizen. I stands for independence. She lives moral courage. N is for noble. She has ideals and spiritual values. D is for dignified. She does not know how to kow tow or curry favor. N is for natural. Think of spring water and pine trees. E is for energetic, megawatt energy. S is for selfless. She lives for others. S is for sister. She is the sister who is always there for you. She is knowledgeable, independent, noble, dignified, natural, energetic, and a selfless sister.

Margaret Howe Lloyd

WILKIE SERVICE AWARD

To a senior whose contributions to the community outside of the school have best demonstrated the deep concern, unfailing sympathy, and aid for which Val and Marge are affectionately remembered.

This year's recipient exemplifies the GDA motto, Non Sibi Sed Aliis. As a sophomore, she served as a volunteer at the Port Rehabilitation Nursing Home. She was respected by the staff and adored by the patients. During her junior year, her afternoon program commitment was spent assisting at the Anna Jaques Hospital. Here again her efforts were applauded and appreciated by her supervisors. This year, she was one of the Co-Directors of the Special Olympics Fall Tournament. Logistical preparations for an undertaking of this magnitude are considerable and she displayed impressive organizational skills, patience, intelligence, and good humor. She was bitterly disappointed when rain forced a cancellation of the event but accepted this outcome with characteristic grace and equanimity. She was the first student to volunteer for this year's community service trip in March to Appalachia. She was an indefatigable worker, considerate of her fellow volunteers, and compassionate for those receiving her assistance. After returning to Byfield she took a leadership role in raising money for further support of these needy families. A true practitioner of civic virtue, with a deep reserve of concern for others, I am pleased to present the Wilkie Service Award to:

SINCE 1854...INVESTING IN OUR COMMUNITY

We care about our community. Community is important. As individuals, we all want the place where we live and work to be the best it can be.

As a financial institution serving the citizens and businesses of this area, we feel the same way. So, we tailor our services to the needs of people like you, who live in the area. And, we invest your dollars primarily in your community, not in questionable distant ventures.

Besides our obvious business functions, we also serve the community through financial assistance and direct volunteer service to charitable, cultural, civic and other community groups and services. Our employees, officers and directors often give many hours of volunteer time to these activities because they care about their community, just as you do, and want to give something back.

So, as you can see, our caring for, and contributions to, this community go well beyond the day-to-day transactions that take place within our offices.

mr. david gosse

Mr. Gosse's most prominent quality is, without a doubt, his energy. No matter where he is or what he is doing, whether he is teaching in the classroom or skiing down a mountain, his limitless energy guides him to success. As a teacher it is his overwhelming desire to share his love of mathematics with his pupils that has encouraged thirty years of math students to "use their squash" and, as an athlete, he has found his stride in multiple sports.

Needless to say, Mr. Gosse's absence will surely be felt on the GDA campus next year. But while he may claim he is retiring, anyone who knows Mr. Gosse knows that he will never stop to relax for long. In fact his days will probably be more action-packed than those of GDA's students as he fills his time with his favorite hobbies - hiking, skiing, fishing, sailing, running, and traveling among them. But it is also clear that he will always have time for his true love, mathematics. While his travels over the next few years may bring him far and wide, it would not be surprising if they ended in a classroom.

mr. alec white

Mr. White's retirement this year marks the departure of one of Governor Dummer's most senior faculty members. Known around campus as Señor Blanco, he has been spreading his passion for the Spanish language to students for three decades. In this time he has also worked to instill his enthusiasm for cross country to dozens of runners, helping to found the program during his first few years at GDA and serving as a coach for decades afterward. In fact, he has a boundless enthusiasm for everything he does. Whether he is teaching the history of Mexico, acting as the leader of ski club, or dancing a jig in class, Mr. White makes his excitement infectious. And while his perpetual smile will no longer be seen on campus, it will certainly serve him well as he prepares to venture beyond GDA to quench his insatiable thirst for Spanish culture and for life. Having been an integral part of the GDA community for 30 years, he will surely be missed next year, but it is no doubt that his influence will be felt for at least another 30 years.

credits

Wow. Looking back, that is probably the only word that can adequately describe this experience. It was a lot of work, but the payoff will come when you use this book to look back on your high school years. This is probably the only tangible record of your time at GDA that you will have and we hope that the memories captured within these pages will serve you well.

To the Class of 2001, thanks for making the memories, and we wish you the best of luck in making many happy sequels.

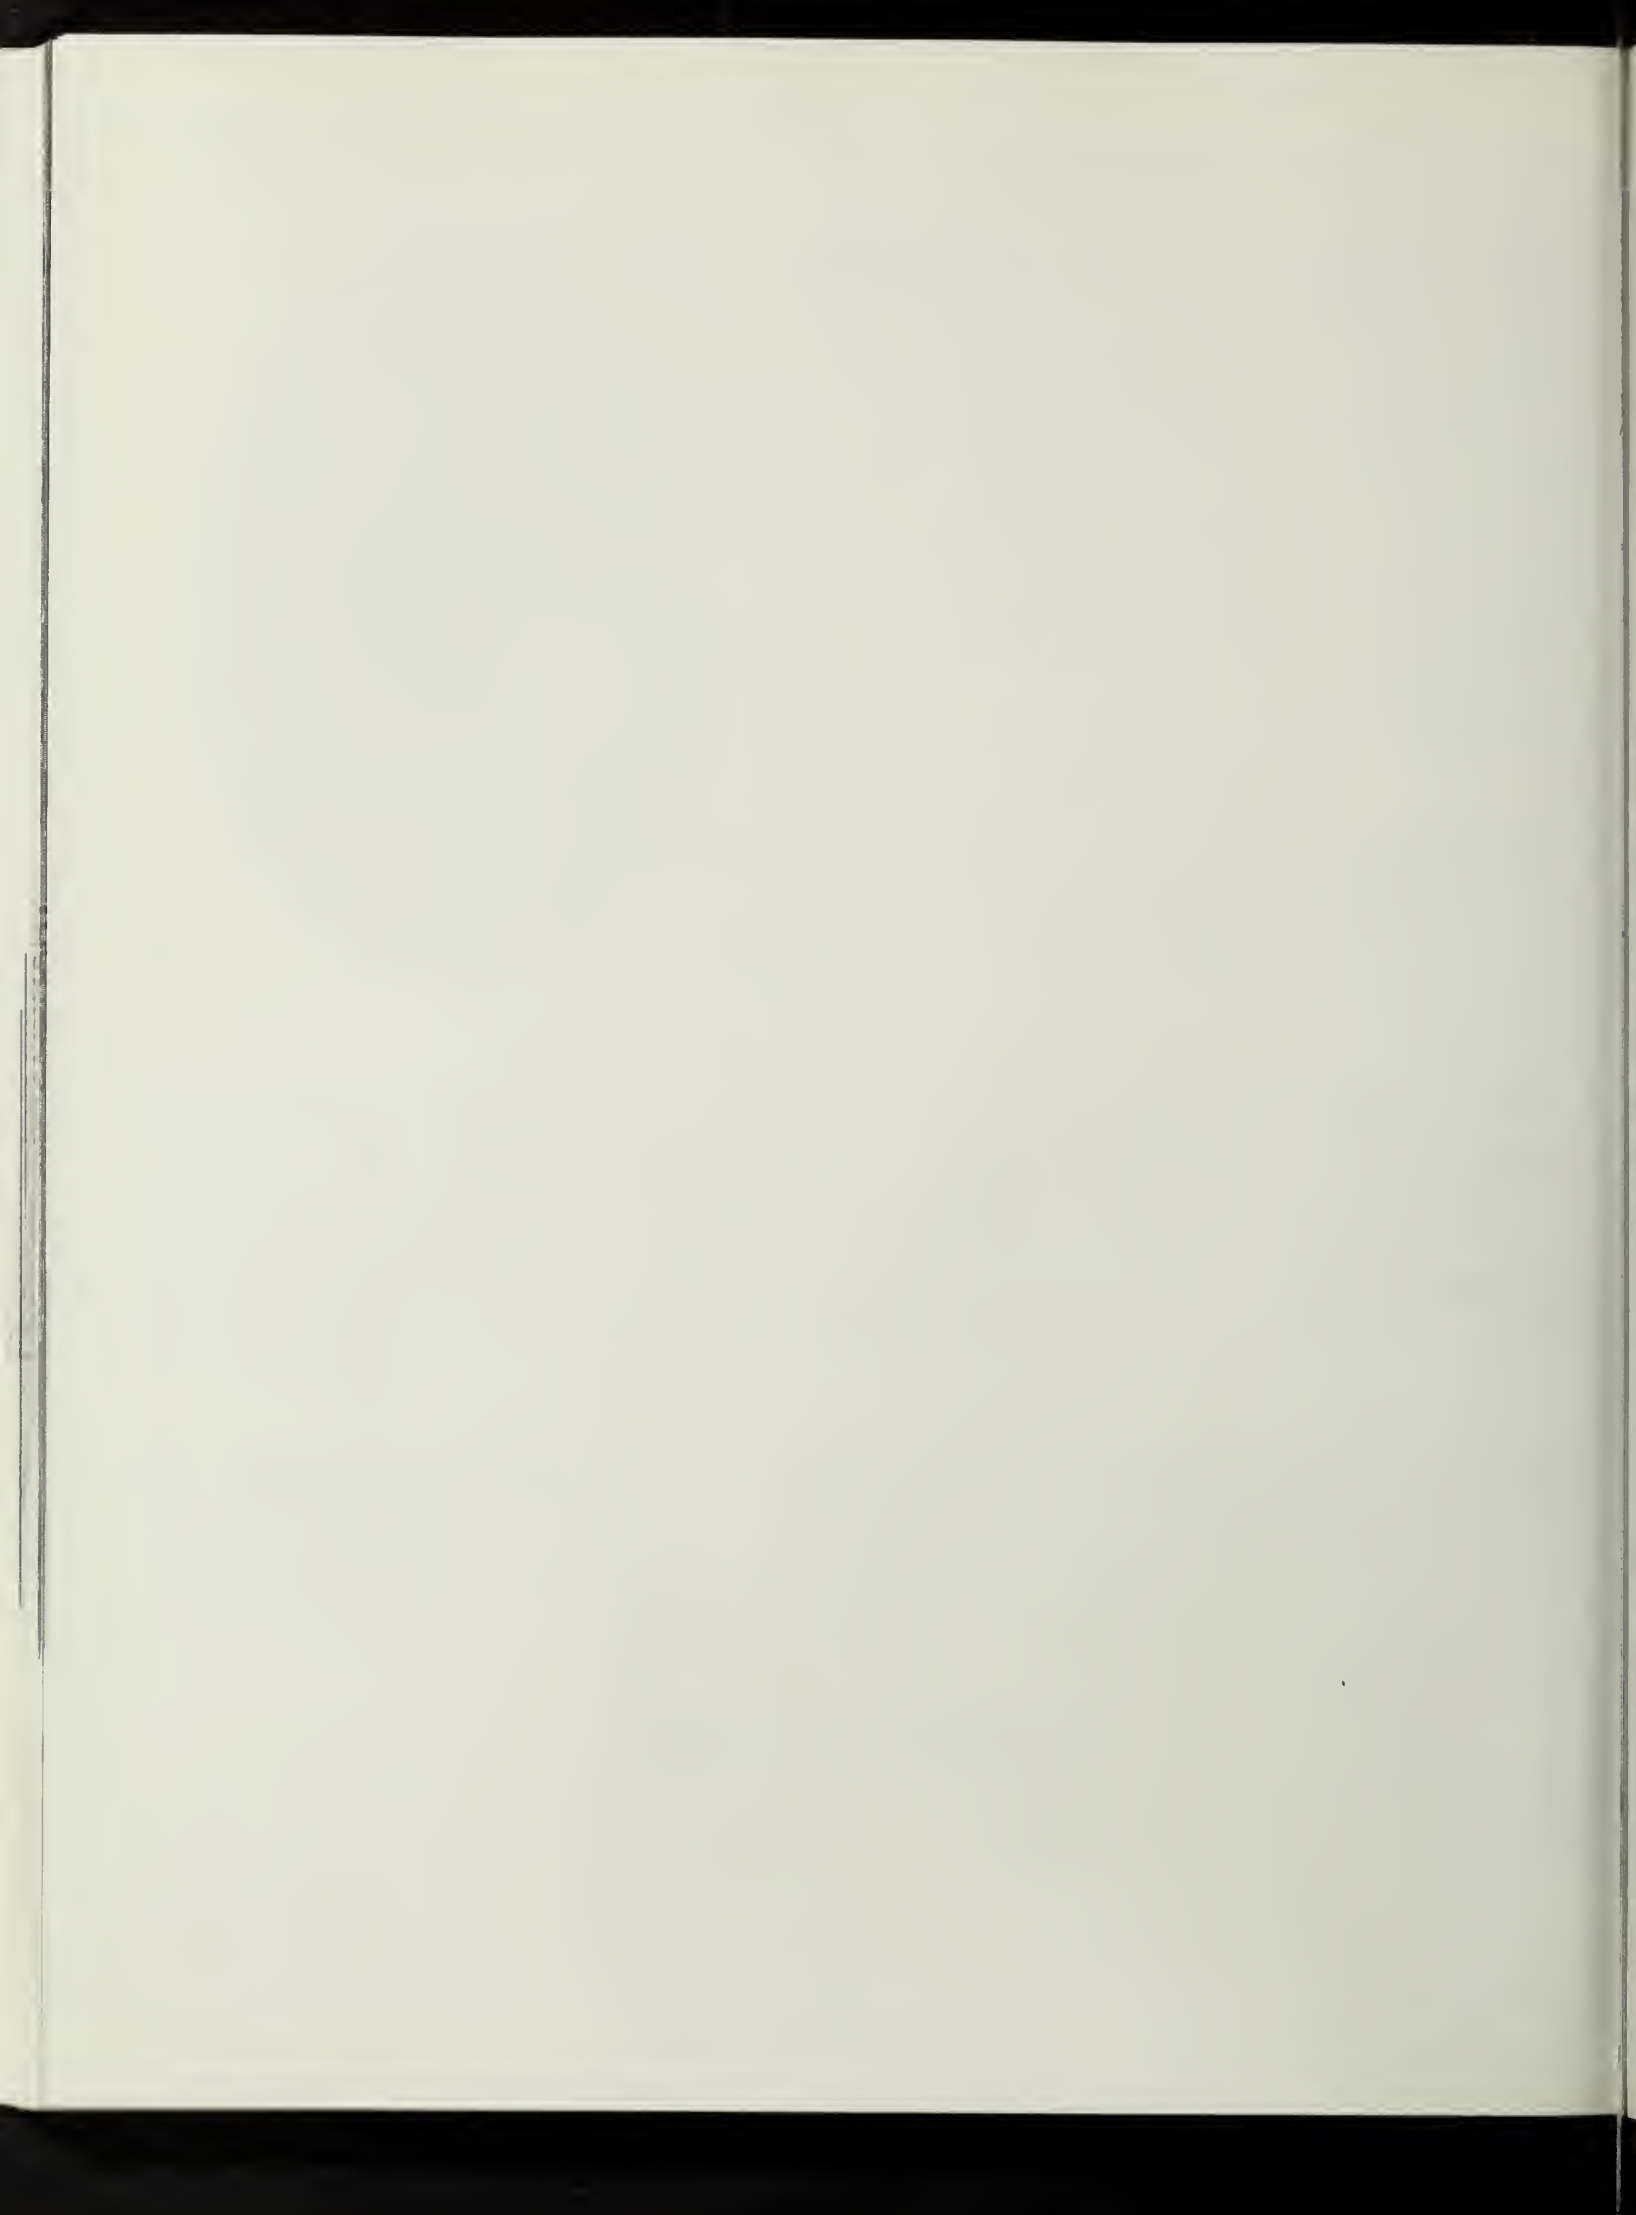

Thank you to our fantastic staff: Kim Jones, Kristen Gorham, Allison Sparks, Mike Woods, Yuri Samsonov, Matt Macoul, Heather Jameson, Craig Bonaventura, Ben Gobin, Jake Rogers, Lindsay Clunie, Dan Guyton, Brooke Lynch, and, of course, Bruce, who was our inspiration for this book.

Mr. Oxton: We might have scared you in the beginning with our habit of procrastinating and we want to thank you for your patience. Your help and support made this book what it is. Thank you.

*Strangers once, we came to dwell together,
Sons of the Governor, tried and true.
Now we're bound by ties that cannot sever,
All our whole life through.
Gather close, hand to hand:
The time draws near when we must part:
Still the love of Byfield days will linger,
Ever in each heart...
...So pass the ancient Milestone by,
And lift the Senior Song on high;
Around the ancient Milestone file,
For we have yet a little while
To linger youth, and you, and I
In Byfield days. (1959)*
